BOY IN ICY WATER.

Witness Life Guard's Rescue of Six-Year-Old at Atlantic City.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) March 7.—From the upper board walk this afternoon witnessed a thrilling rescue by a lieutenant Coast Guard Willcox of the Atlantic City station into the icy waters of the inlet. A boy washed out around a jetty at the end of Atlantic avenue and Pacific avenue, six-year-old Willie Hardcastle of Camden City, who had fallen overboard while playing. The boy was unconscious when the guard dragged him to the shore, but recovered under the treatment in which well dressed men and women from the board walk participated.

Standing on the spot where the child was rescued the water is but a few yards from the board walk, not one of the hundreds who saw him go down. The boy was rescued by the salt water in the government station on the inlet. The tumble. The rescue are enthusiastic over the bravery and quick action of the guard and are discussing a medal of bravery for him a Carnegie hero. Sprague, however, declares that he did nothing more

INDIAN AMUCK.

Countryside Is Up In Arms.

Half-breed Crazed by Drink, in Wild Crusade at Monrovia.

Occupants of Ranch House in Peril of Bad Man's Gun Siege.

Bullet from Winchester Flies Close to Officer Hunting Lunatic.

AN ARMED posse in hot pursuit of a drink-crazed half-breed Indian who had terrorized his neighborhood and tried to kill an officer summoned to arrest him, threw a frontier atmosphere about Monrovia and Arcadia yesterday.

After an all-night carousal Henry Murray returned to the ranch of Capt. Alfred Stedman on North Primrose avenue, Monrovia, where he has been employed for the past fifteen years, and announced his intention of wreaking vengeance on the household for wrongs which his disordered brain conjured out of nothing.

KEEPS FAMILY IN TERROR.

With loaded Winchester he patrolled the house, peering into the windows

Henry Murray,

who yesterday kept a Monrovia rancher's household prisoners for hours, patrolling in front of residence with Winchester, then shot up Arcadia saloon and finally attempted to kill police.

and driving the family to hunt cover from room to room. To further increase the terror of the women he fired several times into the orchard.

Deputy Constable Dan Thomas responded to a telephone appeal for help, but Murray saw him first, and shot at him from behind. The bullet missed Thomas by only a few inches. W. L. Bailey, who saw Murray drive down Primrose avenue while the constable was going around the house, says he fired while springing from the buggy, and so missed his mark. He is a crack shot, and only his hurry saved Thomas.

The constable whirled and covered his man with a revolver, but was at a disadvantage confronting a desperate man armed with a rifle. Murray refused to lay down his gun, and backing into the orchard, turned and ran.

CAUGHT AT GIN MILL.

A posse of local officers quickly formed and started for Arcadia, where Murray is believed to have obtained his liquor. They arrived at the saloon, Ollendorf Villa, just as Murray completed an exhibition of fancy shooting. He was backing out of the door haranguing the inmates of the place, when Deputy Sheriff Davisson covered him with his rifle and ordered him to drop his gun, which he was carrying level at his hip.

After a moment's hesitancy he slightly raised the muzzle and Deputy Marshal Quiggle, from the rear, wrenched the weapon from his grasp. Had there been a flicker of an eyelid among the men who had brought him to bay he would have begun shooting. He said after arrest that had he seen his pursuers first he would have opened fire without warning, and "shot to kill."

The officers, knowing the desperate character of the man, were fully determined to kill him at the least show of resistance. He was taken to the County Jail pending his hearing before Justice Holloway next Friday morning.

RACES MIXED.

Murray is the logical result of miscegenation. His father was a white man, his mother a half-breed Cherokee and negro. He is of splendid physique and strength, and both in appearance and nature his Indian blood predominates. Excepting for irregular outbreaks at long intervals he is sober, industrious and rather silent and somber. Exclusion from social intercourse except with negroes has doubtless increased his sullenness and embittered him. He vows a sweeping vengeance when released after whatever punishment the court inflicts, and those acquainted with him believe he will make good his threats. When in drink his Indian nature asserts itself, and he becomes violent and quarrelsome. He has several times been involved in shooting and stabbing affrays, and is said to carry eight bullets in his anatomy as mementos of life in Texas.

DRAWS FINE DISTINCTION.

Night Court Bases Fine on the Gleeful Celebrant's Tankage.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The night court magistrates now discriminate with particularity between "stews," "souses," "buns," "jags," "piffles" and "plain drunks." Magistrate Kernochan groups them thus:

Stews, $3; souse, $3; bun, $2; jag (without trimmings or noise effects.) $2; piffle, $1. In cases where these psychological conditions accrue on one's birthday, at a christening, wedding or wake, the fine is remitted.

The penalty for a plain drunk scales as high as $10, or six months in the workhouse.

SIMPLE LIFE.

REAL SABBATH FOR ROOSEVELT.

FORMER PRESIDENT WALKS TO CHURCH IN SNOW.

With His Wife Trudges Three Miles Over Slush-Filled Country Roads to Attend Divine Service at Oyster Bay—Spends Rest of Day Reading.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OYSTER BAY (N. Y.) March 7.—Further evidence that former President Theodore Roosevelt is leading the simple life, was supplied today when he and his wife came trudging through the slush and snow to church. They had left Sagamore Hill, three miles from the village, at 10 o'clock. It was with his usual rapid stride that Col. Roosevelt swung along, and Mrs. Roosevelt had difficulty in keeping pace with him.

Both were in their pew in Christ Episcopal Church ten minutes before the hour scheduled for services.

Every one was surprised to see Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt come to church on foot. Their children, Miss Ethel and Kermit, were not so brave. All occupied the usual family pew.

Although Mr. Roosevelt is a member of the Episcopal church, he partook of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper with Mrs. Roosevelt and the children.

In a special prayer the rector offered thanks for the safe return to his home of the former President, and for the wisdom with which he had conducted his administration.

The Roosevelt family left the church before the services were quite over, and on the way exchanged greetings with those present.

During the entire afternoon Mr Roosevelt remained in his library reading. He is thoroughly enjoying a much-needed rest. No visitors have been received at Sagamore Hill. Mr. Roosevelt is passing his mornings indoors and afternoons outdoors. He insists on having a certain amount of exercise in order to keep in trim for his African expedition.

ROOSEVELT HONORED.

MINISTER LAUDS HIM.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, March 7.—Former President Roosevelt was the theme in several churches here today. In Calvary Baptist Church, the pastor, Dr. MacArthur, offered a series of resolutions to his current events class, highly complimenting Mr. Roosevelt's administration.

The resolutions, which were unanimously adopted, rejoiced at the superb service which Mr. Roosevelt has rendered as patriot, statesman and President, as father of the Panama Canal, and as the peacemaker in the Russo-Japanese war, and honored him for his loyal support of civic righteousness, and the highest ideals of manhood.

FOR GOOD ROADS.

Gillett's Bill Will Pass Senate.

No Question as to Outcome as Plan Appeals to All Interested.

Movement Then Will Depend on Whether People Vote Bonds.

Will Be Several Years at Best Before Actual Work Begins.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gov. Gillett's good roads bill, already passed by the Assembly, will pass the Senate Tuesday or Wednesday, and will be signed by the Chief Executive before the close of the present session. There was no opposition to the measure in the lower house, and there will be none in the Senate, as every legislator who has taken the pains to acquaint himself with the measure is satisfied that it provides the most satisfactory plan ever presented for a system of State highways.

This measure probably is nearer to the heart of the Governor than any other that has come before the Legislature, yet it is one in which he individually has no further concern than to have it presented to the people of the State for their approval or rejection. Under the provisions of the bill nothing can be done in connection with the proposed highway system until long after the end of his term.

The bill passed by the Assembly provides for a State bond issue of not to exceed $18,000,000, for the construction of a continuous and connected highway system running north and south through the State, traversing the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys and along the Pacific Coast by the most direct and practicable routes, joining the county seats of the several counties through which it passes and connecting the principal centers of population, together with such branch roads as may be necessary to give direct communication with the county seats lying east and west of the proposed State highway. It is for the people of the State to decide first if they desire such a State highway and under the terms of the bill they will have an opportunity to express themselves at the general election in November, 1910, as to whether or not there shall be a bond issue in the amount named.

MUST AWAIT NEXT SESSION.

Should the people decide by vote for the bonds, the Legislature that will convene in January, 1911, will frame the laws necessary for the carrying out of the plan. The Legislature at that time in session will map out more particularly the plans of the highway system, and it is not unlikely that the route of the various roads will become an issue in the various legislative districts of the State.

If a majority of the people declare against the bond issue there will be no State highway, at least for the present.

As provided by Gov. Gillett's bill, introduced in the Assembly by Mr. Coglan and in the Senate by Estudillo, the State Department of Engineering will have charge of the work of constructing the roads. It will be necessary for the next Legislature, in the event that the people vote for the bonds, to provide the money necessary for the surveys and for starting the great work. Even if the bonds are voted it may be three or four years later before an actual start can be had on the project, several years after the expiration of the term of Gov. Gillett.

"All that I desire," said the Governor today, "is to see a start made on this plan for a highway from one end of the State to the other and connecting all the principal cities and counties with the main road or roads. I believe that such a system would do

ON HIS DIGNITY.

DECLINES TO YIELD ROOM TO ROOSEVELT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DETROIT, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Taking the ground that ex-President Roosevelt is now only a private citizen, and therefore not entitled to any more than ordinary consideration, Archibald G. Ellair, a prominent and wealthy stock broker of this city, has declined to yield to the persuasion of the vessel agents, who used some strong arguments to induce him to give up his stateroom on the Hamburg-American liner because it was needed for the use of Roosevelt and his party.

Mr. Ellair completed his arrangements some time ago for a trip abroad and by a coincidence happened to hit upon the same vessel of the Hamburg-American line upon which the Roosevelt party intends to sail. A day or two ago the steamship people were advised that additional rooms were imperatively required for the ex-President's party, and they immediately set out to secure them, although all reservations had been previously disposed of. It was found that the quarters allotted to Mr. Ellair joined Roosevelt's, and as such were highly desirable. Telegrams were immediately sent to the company's agents here, as well as to Mr. Ellair, explaining the situation and requesting that he accept a reservation on another of the company's boats.

But this the Detroit man declined absolutely to do, and he wired the Hamburg-American people accordingly, stating that he had paid for his stateroom and proposed to make use of it, and added that, furthermore, he did not see any good reason why he should be requested to resign it to any one else. Theodore Roosevelt was only a private citizen, anyway, and was not entitled to any particular courtesies any more than himself, is the Detroit man's way of looking at it.

In politics Ellair has always been Republican, and as such voted for Roosevelt, but as he himself expressed it: "Roosevelt as President and Roosevelt as plain American citizen are two greatly different persons."

NOT DEAD; MAYBE DYING.

Young Woman Falls in Faint Over Corpse Identified as Her Own. Condition Serious.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON (Pa.) March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Nellie Starr, a beautiful young woman of Primrose, who yesterday walked into a crowd near the railroad at her home in time to hear the mutilated corpse of a girl who had been run down by a train identified as herself, is in a serious condition at her home tonight. The shock may prove serious.

Ellen Williams, who was identifying the body of her room-mate, Leona Luppens, as that of Miss Starr, is prostrated at her home in McDonald. Miss Williams fell in a faint over the mutilated corpse, when, as she was pronouncing it that of Miss Starr, the same girl pushed her way in through the crowd and screamed that she was not dead.

Investigation showed that the body was that of Miss Luppens, who had thrown herself in front of a train.

Biblical Hint to Students to Keep Off the College Grass and Fences.

CHICAGO, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that entereth not by the door into the fold of the sheep, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber."—John x:1.

That is the sign, printed in large red letters, that confronted students of the Garrett Biblical Institute at Evanston yesterday when they started for their classrooms.

Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds G. F. Starkweather, is responsible for the sign. All year he has been striving to keep the students from climbing over fences and wearing "short cut" paths across the campus.

He addressed them in chapel several times, but, this failing, he resorted to the scriptural placard.

HAVANA, March 7.—At the end of a protracted session of the Miguelists and Zayaists today, the preliminary terms for fusing the two factions under the title of Liberal party, was agreed to. The committee decided to submit to the national assemblies of both factions a proposition for creating a national reorganization commission, charged with the arrangements of the details.

The committee was congratulated by President Gomez upon the result of its efforts to reunite the Liberal party.

REVOLUTIONISTS START RUMPUS.

HOSTILE DEMONSTRATION AIMED AT CLEMENCEAU.

Vigorous Measures Adopted by the Government Cause of Outbreak at Unveiling of Statue to Former Prime Minister of France—Police Promptly Quell Disturbance.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PARIS, March 7.—The social revolutionists, as a protest against the vigorous measures of the government, tried to organize a huge hostile demonstration against Premier Clemenceau today at the unveiling of the monument erected to Charles Thomas Fiquet, former Prime Minister of France.

President Falliéres, former President Loubet, and many Senators and Deputies were present, together with the members of various organizations. At the first sign of unruly manifestations a large force of police took steps to suppress the demonstrants, a number of whom were arrested.

In an address, M. Clemenceau said those who denied the existence of a government of liberty in France today, were "first, the reactionaries, who desired the return of a government of oppression; second, the church, which only understood liberty as an exclusive privilege; third, revolutionaries, who imagined their liberty was being invaded, when the government was only protecting its own liberty."

HIGH FINANCE.

MILLION VANISHES IN HUGE SWINDLE.

Federal Officers Unearth Fraud of Gigantic Size in Little Rock.

Only Business Men With Wealth are Victims—Suspects Arrested.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LITTLE ROCK, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Business men of unquestionable standing were the principal victims of a band of swindlers, which the Federal and State officers here believe they will soon have broken up. The gang has been operating successfully for two years or more, during which time they have taken probably more than a million dollars from their dupes. The alleged chiefs of the organization are in custody, J. C. Mabry, or Gordon, is held by the Federal government. J. M. Johnson, I. J. Warner and F. M. Clark are to be prosecuted by the State of Arkansas.

Records prepared by the alleged swindlers themselves have been found to account for nearly a million dollars, and the Federal officers are receiving information daily from every section of the country, chiefly in the cities, pointing to other large operations.

In many instances so gullible were the victims it is shown, that fraud was not suspected until the arrests were reported in Arkansas.

"Howls" from towns and cities on all the transcontinental railway lines have since come in in such numbers that the original estimates of one million dollars may fall far short of the actual sum taken in. But of course the whole story never will be known. Too many "customers" will prefer to keep silent.

In one express package shipped from here a day or two before the arrest, officers found nearly $50,000. In the prisoners' personal effects they found money, diamonds and pearls worth more than $10,000. To these possessions are added a handsome motor car, several carriages and race horses said to be thoroughbreds, and a stock of saddles and harness and paraphernalia used in wrestling or boxing bouts.

For nearly two years the syndicate had headquarters in New Orleans, and later moved to Seattle, then to Council Bluffs and finally early last month, came here.

The case of J. G. Kile, a wealthy farmer in Illinois, will serve to show how the swindle was worked.

After Kile and his wife had been induced to come to Little Rock under pretext of large profits, through a land deal, he was "permitted" to wager $10,000 on a horse race. Kiles's money was merely a drop in the bucket to the amount supposed to have been bet on the race. To the Federal authorities Kile said there was fully a bushel of money on the table in his room, when the arrangements for the race were finally concluded.

The jockey who rode the horse that carried Kiles's money fell from his mount during the race. When the spectators reached the fallen man they found his face covered with blood, it was flowing from his mouth. He was injured internally. He was dying. Fright seized every one.

Of course Kile didn't know, he learned only a few days ago that the syndicate jockeys and wrestlers and boxers always bled much at the mouth. He did not know they carried little thin rubber sacks filled with blood or something resembling it in their mouths, that sometimes they bit the sack and sometimes burst it against their ears to show how dangerously they had been injured.

It was not until the arrest of the swindlers nearly three weeks later that Kile realized how he had been taken in. Then he hastened to Little Rock to see if he could arrange with the other victims here in convention assembled for a share of the $50,000 which the government had attached.

J. F. Tierney of Streator, Ill., who lost $10,000, tried to have Gordon arrested in New Orleans, but says the authorities there would not listen to him.

After the arrest of the swindlers in Little Rock, victims began arriving on nearly every train. Letters and telegrams came from dozens of cities.

Probably every city in the country is represented in the list. Missouri towns and cities gave up nearly $100,000 to the syndicate according to the syndicate's own books. Kansas City helped for $10,000. T. W. Ballow, a millionaire banker of Princeton, Mo., went down with the deputy sheriff of his county and confessed to giving up $30,000.

John E. Cavanaugh of Pinebluff, Ark., said he was swindled out of $37,000. T. E. George of San Antonio, Tex., said he was out $24,000. W. H. McGrath of Pike City, Mo., $10,000, and ten or fifteen were present with what they called white chips, for $5000 lost in the game. A list of names of supposed victims was found in Gordon's valise. It gives what purports to be the names and dates of the syndicate's plays.

It contains records of nearly one hundred swindles from October 7, 1907, to October 21, 1908.

ILLINOIS DEADLOCK.

SHURTLEFF IN LEAD.

May Follow Hopkins In Senate.

Programme Arranged to Have Speaker Elected Next Thursday.

Fusion of Democrats With Shurtleff Republicans Is Rumored.

Former Senator Insists He Will Win Deadlock This Week.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An effort to elect Speaker E. D. Shurtleff as United States Senator from Illinois, is the underlined attraction and feature of the legislative programme at Springfield for next Thursday.

From what became known in Chicago tonight, after a series of conferences in which participated every leader of prominence, both Republican and Democratic, the much reiterated prophecy of a fusion between Democrats and Shurtleff Republicans becomes a distinct possibility, if not a real probability.

Rumors had it a majority of the "administration" element in the House may manifest little opposition to the programme of choosing Speaker Shurtleff for the Hopkins vacancy. This is based upon the probable offer of an olive branch to the Representatives who voted for King for Speaker in the shape of a caucus for the choosing of a new speaker, should Shurtleff don the Hopkins toga.

Contradictory to this latter report was the assurance from close lieutenants of Speaker Shurtleff that, even if he should be elected to the United States Senate, he would remain as Speaker of the House until the end of the present session.

In spite of the [illegible] it was asserted at the headquarters of former Senator Albert J. Hopkins that he goes to Springfield with the utmost confidence that he will be reelected Senator within the week, and that such a proceeding will be eminently pleasing to those high in authority at Washington.

Mr. Hopkins will not get back from Washington until tomorrow morning, but many other Illinois politicians have returned from the inauguration. It is true that many of them do not agree with the latter part of Hopkins's claim. It is laughed at by the Shurtleff managers, who spent one of the busiest Sundays in their lives setting the stage for the act schduled for Thursday.

It is believed that the strongest efforts were made by the leading allies of Mr. Hopkins, such as Mayor Busse, to put an end to the Shurtleff-Democratic agreement, but ineffectually. Stories which were in circulation after repeated conferences between some of the leaders indicate that an understanding now exists between enough Republican and Democratic members of the Legislature to do the business for Speaker Shurtleff when the signal is given.

EXPLAIN TO CONSTITUENTS.

One reason given for the prolonging of the deadlock is that the down-State Democrats and some of the Republicans wanted time to talk the matter over with possibly wrathy constituents and return to Springfield with the consent and blessing of their respective districts to vote for a Republican for United States Senator. The statement was made by an influential Democratic political leader that no serious objection can or should be made by the rank and file of the party from the standpoint of Democracy, to a combination which would defeat the election of Mr. Hopkins.

"AMERICA" SAVES THE DAY.

Hymn Averts Panic in Huge Crowd Gathered to Hear William J. Bryan's Lecture.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

YORK (Pa.) March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By singing "America," a panic was averted this afternoon in the high school where 3000 people had assembled to hear William J. Bryan deliver his address, "The Prince of Peace." When the time arrived for the Nebraskan's address, the crowd outside made a rush for the doors which were thrown open and in the jam that followed, women were trampled upon and their clothes were damaged. Many of those on the outside became hysterical and when Mayor Weaver's appeal failed to calm the crowd, H. A. Bailey, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., called upon those nearest to him to sing "America." This was caught up by the audience, and the crowd fighting its way into the room was quieted for a time so that the police could drive them back and lock the doors.

NEW APACHE CHIEF.

LAWTON (Okla.) March 7.—At an informal meeting of more than half of the Apache prisoners of war at Fort Sill eligible to vote for a chief to succeed the late Geronimo, Asa Daklugie, son of Whoa, of the Nedni branch of the tribe, was chosen chief today. A formal election will be held soon, but today foreshadows the tribe's action.

AUTHORESS BETTER.

BOSTON, March 7.—Some improvement was shown today in the condition of Sarah Orne Jewett, the author, who is critically ill at her home here. Dr. James M. Jackson, her physician, said, however, that her condition was still precarious and her recovery doubtful.

INAUGURAL VISITOR.

FIND MURDERED MAN HALF BURIED IN SNOW.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The body of a well-dressed man, partially covered with snow and a ragged wound in the neck, was today found near Alexandria, Va., thirteen miles from Washington. In the pockets of the clothing were a traveler's check for $300, issued by the Wells Fargo Express Company, at Los Angeles, payable to Walter F. Schultz, a card bearing the same name, but with an address of 1314 Douglass street, Sioux City, Iowa, and another card which bears the name of Mrs. Alma Hume Gillette.

The police regard the case as a cold blooded murder and one of the most mystifying crimes ever committed in this section. The identity of the man supposed to be Schultz, is by no means complete. Papers and cards found in the clothing are believed to have been placed there by his slayer.

The theory that the man had committed suicide is not credited, because of the peculiar wound, and the fact that no weapon of any sort was found near his body.

After working all day upon all sorts of clews, the Alexandria police believe the man was an inauguration visitor who was lured away from the city and murdered, and his body thrown into a field, where it was found, about 400 yards from the Alexandria railroad station.

The authorities believe they will establish the identity of the victim from a letter, without envelope, evidently belonging to him. It was dated "Sioux City, Iowa, December 30.," and signed "Your Sister, Ellen Dorothy."

The man was apparently 35 years old, and his appearance was that of a prosperous business man.

IDENTITY DISCOVERED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SIOUX CITY (Iowa) March 7.—Walter F. Schultz, the victim of the mysterious murder at Alexandria, Va., has a sister living in this city. She is Mrs. Alamore F. Gillette. Her husband is a purchasing agent for Armour & Co. Mrs. Gillette's given name is Ellen Dorothy. Schultz's home was in Chicago, where his parents are living.

Schultze was an artist and had been traveling for his health. He was in Washington for the inauguration.

Mr. Gillette telegraphed to Alexandria to hold the body for instructions. He will go to Chicago to break the news to Schultz's parents tomorrow.

THE LEGISLATURE.

more for the development of California than any other one thing.

TOURIST FEATURE.

"Tourists come here from the East to see the country. They get in a train at Los Angeles or San Francisco and more often than not travel by night between those two cities, seeing nothing of the country lying between. It is the same with their travel from San Francisco to Portland.

"Even if they travel by day trains they get no idea of the resources of the country, for it is a fact that the railroads do not always run through the most attractive portions of the country.

"Take the homeseekers, too, the people looking for ranches and for other investments. They get a mighty poor idea of the richness of the State in a hasty glimpse from a car window.

"Let us have a system of good roads from Siskiyou to San Diego county and from the mountains to the sea and there will be afforded an opportunity for all these people to see everything that is worth while.

"In addition to this, think of the benefit that good roads will be to ranchers who have products to convey to market. Consider the conditions that exist now in some part of the State—roads impassable for weeks and maybe months each year; others so bad that enormous sums are added to the burden of the rancher before he can reach the market.

COST INFINITESIMAL.

"Then take a pencil and figure just what it is to cost each year to, say, the 2,000,000 inhabitants now in California, not to count the millions yet to come, and all this distributed over a period of fifty years. How much would each taxpayer have to pay each year? Who would feel the cost? And yet, look at the benefits that would come to the State."

It is the idea of Gov. Gillett that should the people approve the bond issue the State should call for the best road-builders of the world to plan the highway system. He would not entrust the task to section hands or to the ordinary road builders, nor would the now very competent department of engineering have the sole say.

"I believe we should go to France, England, Germany or to other foreign countries," said the Governor. "If it should be decided that the road experts of our own country could not fill the bill."

The Governor's good roads bill has the support of practically every man in the Legislature. It is recognized only as an enabling act, permitting the people to say whether or not they desire a State system of highways and providing quick means for them to proceed with the plan if it proves agreeable to them.

FIGHT ON LAND SHARKS.

LED BY KINGSBURY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Surveyor-General Kingsbury is making the fight of his life against the California land sharks, in an effort to secure the passage of a law that will give the people an equal chance, at least, with the grabbers of the public domain. Strange as it may seem, one man who was convicted of land frauds in the United States courts—John S. Hyde of Hyde and Benson notoriety—is giving Kingsbury the most trouble among members of the Assembly.

The bill desired by the Surveyor-General was passed by the Senate with hardly a negative vote and now it is in the hands of the Assembly Committee on Public Lands and Forestry, of which Flint of Hollister, is chairman. As it appears now, the measure will be reported on favorably by the committee, which is to take it under consideration tomorrow.

Hyde, who was convicted at Washington and sentenced to one year in prison, and to pay a fine of $1000, but who is at liberty pending the result of an appeal, is in Sacramento, combating the efforts of the Surveyor-General. Hyde is clever enough to remain in the background, doing most of his work in a room at the Capitol Hotel, but he is ably represented by a number of lieutenants.

Benson, who also was convicted and sentenced to prison and to pay a fine and whose appeal is said to have failed, has not appeared on the scene.

J. D. Ackerman, another land attorney, whose name has not been besmirched as have been those of Hyde and Benson, also is here, lobbying against the Kingsbury bill.

The desperate fight of the land sharks is proof of the assertion that the bill of the former Los Angeles civil engineer would put an end to the crooked work that has been practiced in the past. If it did become a law, it is said it would deprive this shyster gentry of probably half a million dollars in profits in the next three or four years. At the same time it would give legitimate landseekers an opportunity to settle on the public domain on payment of a reasonable sum, most of which would go into the State treasury instead of into the pockets of the sharpers.

A strange feature of the situation is that victims of sharks have flooded the Assembly with letters and telegrams protesting against the passage of the Kingsbury bill. These letters and telegrams apparently were dictated by one person, supposed to be not far from the office of Hyde and Benson. Signers of these communications express the fear that the bill would deprive them of some rights they think they hold. It is stated that many of these people have absolutely no claim to State lands or scrip, whatever they may have been persuaded to believe, and that they simply are working against their own interests in opposing the measure. Several lawyers in different parts of the State have sent similar protests.

JUSTICE LIMITATION.

LEEDS HOPEFUL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Assemblyman Leeds expressed the opinion today that he would succeed tomorrow in securing the passage by the lower house of his bill limiting the jurisdiction of a township justice to his own or adjoining townships. This is the bill that is fought bitterly by Dist.-Atty. Fredericks of Los Angeles county and by others who think it would make more difficult the conviction of "blind piggers" and other violators of the law. The opinion still prevails among many enemies of race-track gambling that the bill might have a nullifying effect on the Otis Anti-Race-Track Gambling Law, though Mr. Otis said today that he had no such fear.

Assemblyman Hammon of Los Angeles, a deputy in the office of the District Attorney, is conducting the fight against the Leeds bill. He was confident today that he could defeat the measure on the floor and his opinion was born out by several other Assemblymen who voted with Leeds for reconsideration of the vote by which the bill was defeated last week, but who will vote against it on final passage.

Rech of Los Angeles and several other members, agree with Leeds that many abuses exist under the present law, which gives a township justice jurisdiction over an entire county. They deny, though, that the Leeds bill would aid violators of the race track bill which they all supported.

DUCK POND BILL.

MELROSE ON GUARD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One of the interesting fights that is to come up in the Assembly this week, possibly tomorrow, will be over the Leeds "duckpond" bill, under which gun clubs would be enabled to flood their lands with water from artesian wells and be absolved from the penalty that now hangs over those who waste such water. Assemblyman Leeds has made some amendments to his bill, but they are not satisfactory to Assemblyman Melrose of Orange county, who, like a hawk, is watching the measure, and who will make bitter objection to the passage of the bill in any form. Melrose apparently had Leeds beaten overwhelmingly when the bill came up for consideration a few days ago, and there is no indication that there has been a change of sentiment. In fact, the gun clubs do not seem to be in the best of repute with the bulk of farmer members of the present Assembly.

ARREST FOR PERJURY NEXT.

Apprehension of Prominent Man Who Testified for Col. Cooper Is Promised for Today.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) March 7.—It is probable that before arguments begin tomorrow in the trial of the Coopers and Sharpe, charged with the murder of former Senator E. W. Carmack, another arrest for perjury will be made upon authority of Atty.-Gen. McCarn. This time the accused will be a man of prominence, whose testimony was contradicted by half a dozen people.

In the conclusion of the trial, the two points in the case to be the point of attack and defense, will be as to who fired the first shot, and the reason why the Coopers were on Seventh avenue, the street which Senator Carmack had to traverse about the time he was wont to go to his apartments.

ANGELENO CLIMBS VOLCANO.

Former Resident of This City Scales Peak Vomiting Forth Lava and Hot Ashes.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY (Mex.) March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] W. A. Butchard, formerly of Los Angeles, who is in charge of a large ranch and plantation in Mexico, has arrived here from a visit to Colima volcano. He says that despite the violent activity of the volcano, he succeeded in ascending the mountain to a point above the timber line, and made an investigation of the effect of the ashes and lava which have been emitted during the recent eruptions.

He found no evidence of damage, as the lava had flowed into the deep barrancas, or gulches, and so far as he could learn none of it had spread over cultivated portions of lower slopes of the mountains. Just as Mr. Butchard was starting on the ascent of the volcano, it gave vent to a terrific outburst of red hot ashes and stone, causing much terror among the inhabitants of the towns near its base.

VIENNA, March 7.—An avalanche has destroyed a workman's shelter at Sankt Johann in the Pongau district of Salzburg, killing twenty-seven persons.

NO SISTER IS LIVING.

Executor of Baldwin Estate Denies Claim Made by Woman.

"There is no such person as a sister of Baldwin living," said H. A. Unruh, confidential agent for many years of the late E. J. ("Lucky") Baldwin, and executor of the estate, when telephoned to at Arcadia last night regarding a telegram from Freeport, Ill., stating that a Mrs. Mary Baldwin Morin claims to be a sister of Baldwin and will contest the will.

"I know there is no sister," emphatically repeated Mr. Unruh, "and even if there was, what difference would it make?" he asked. "Ten thousand people may make such claims as this, but what good would it do them? Under the laws of the State no one can inherit except children.

"Neither sisters, brothers, cousins, uncles, aunts, mothers, fathers or grandfathers," added Mr. Unruh emphatically, "have any rights; in fact, as I say, no relatives outside the immediate children have any right under the laws of California. Anyhow, there is no such party as a sister," he concluded, as he hung up the receiver.

HAD TO WAKE US UP.

American People Not Alive to Foreign Problems, Says Roosevelt in Letter to Britisher.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KINGSTON (Jamaica) March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That President Roosevelt wished to have the United States government interfere in Hayti during the last trouble there, but that "the American people simply were not alive to the situation," has become known here through a letter from Mr. Roosevelt to Sir Harry H. Johnston, British traveler and scientist, which the latter showed to several friends at the Government House before leaving for England after his American visit. The letter reads in part:

"The White House, Washington,
"December 4, 1908.

"Dear Sir Harry:

"Just a hasty line so that it may reach you before you leave New Orleans. I do not think we shall intervene in Hayti. Of course we ought to, but this people of ours simply does not understand how things are outside our own boundaries. Of course I do not desire to act unless I can get the bulk of our people to understand the situation and to back up the action. To do that I have got to get the facts vividly before them and clearly before them. In Panama, Cuba, Santo Domingo and Puerto Rico, it needed months or years of preparation before we could get our people to see things straight, and the worst of it is that the educated Northeasterners are not merely blind, but often malevolently blind, to what goes on. But the American people simply were not alive to the situation.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

ANOTHER BALDWIN CLAIMANT.

Woman of Illinois Declares She Is "Lucky's" Sister and Entitled to Share in Estate.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FREEPORT (Ill.) March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Mary Baldwin Morin, one of Freeport's prominent literary women, today astonished the community by announcing that she is the sister of the late E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin; that she was to receive a legacy from him, and that she would formally present her claims.

Mrs. Morin, accompanied her statement with proofs of her relationship. When she was 3 years of age Lucky left home in a fit of rage at his stepmother, who was making life miserable for her husband's children, fifteen in number. At that time "Lucky" vowed she would never see him again, and that he would go far away and make his fortune. His sister has never seen him since, but has in the past been in communication with him. She asserts that only two others of the original fifteen children still survive, John B. Baldwin of Lincoln, Neb., formerly Mayor of that city, and Henry of Shullsburg, Wis., an old soldier. The Baldwins lived at New Diggins, Wis., just north of here at the time "Lucky" left the family home.

BOY ADMITS SHOOTING.

Says He Killed Woman While Firing at Some Dried Peaches in Near-by Tree.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ATCHISON (Kan.) March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Carl Hale, 17-year-old boy, confessed tonight to his uncle, Roy Hale, and Sheriff Taylor, that he caused the death of Mrs. Jerome Hoover, who was found dead in her kitchen with a bullet hole in her head, Wednesday eveging. He said that the shooting was accidental. After confessing, young Hale broke down and wept bitterly.

The Hale boy says he took the mail from the Hoover mailbox into the house, and found Mrs. Hoover frying meat. Then he went out to the yard and around back of the kitchen, and shot at some dried-up peaches on a tree four times and returned home. When he heard of the death of Mrs. Hoover in the evening, he became fearful that he had killed her.

Mrs. Hoover was killed while washing dishes. The rifle Hale used was locked in a small room where his aunt, Mrs. Roy Hale, kept her china and linen. He says he found the door unlocked, went in and got the gun, and put it back when he was through with it, locking the door of the room as he came out. A trap door leads from this room into the cellar, and the theory of Sheriff Kyler is that Hale gained entrance to the room through the trap door.

BIG BLAZE AT OGDEN.

OGDEN (Utah) March 7.—Fire, which for a time threatened the postoffice, and the Ogden Automobile Garage, was discovered tonight in the Auditorium skating rink. Within an hour the flames had leveled the Auditorium, but adjoining buildings were not damaged. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

CHORUS GIRLS AND COLORS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MINNEAPOLIS, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A couple of the people's representatives have introduced into the Minnesota Legislature a bill to protect the national colors from chorus girls. The bill provides a penalty of $500 fine for a chorus girl who wear red, white and blue tights, and the manager who employs her may lose his license. In fact there are penalties for everybody, from the impresario to the scene shifter.

But what particularly gets the girls is a certain indefiniteness in the bill by which it is not made clear whether a girl may come on for an act with one red leg and one white leg and then re-appear for the next act with a couple of blue legs. Also there is uncertainty as to whether three girls in a row, one with red, one with white and one with blue legs, constitute a violation.

Furthermore, can the spotlight with successive red, white and blue flashes send a whole platoon of girls to the penitentiary?

The barbers are uneasy, wondering how the bill will affect the color scheme of their poles.

HALF OF MEN BAD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "If I had a daughter, I would rather put her in her grave than to see her married to any one of half the young men of today."

This is the expressed belief of the Rev. John A. Davis of Binghampton, N. Y., who is conducting a series of evangelistic services at the Fourth Baptist Church, Ashland boulevard and Monroe street, and who addressed a large mass meeting of men and boys this afternoon.

"You can't expect the moral condition of men to improve until women demand the same standard of conduct from men that they do from their own sex," he said.

"A fallen man is just as low as a fallen woman."

"You don't need to tell men that dancing is wrong," he also stated.

"They know that it is wrong. The innocent girls and the silly mothers are the ones who need to know the dangers of this amusement. The dance is of the devil and responsible for a large percentage of fallen girls."

EAGLES TO BUILD CHURCH.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LAPORTE (Ind.) March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frank E. Herring, who was candidate before the State Democratic convention for Lieutenant-Governor and who is vice-president of the fraternal order of Eagles, succeeding to the presidenty in September, today issued an appeal for financial contributions from members of the order to enable the Rev. A. H. Hackleman of Montpelier, Ind., to complete the building of his church.

Mr. Hackleman was recently ostracised by his fellow clergymen and dubbed a "buzzard preacher," because he accepted a contribution of $50 from the Montpelier Eagles, later officiating at a memorial service which the order conducted. Subscriptions to the pastor's building fund also were withdrawn by prominent citizens because of his friendly attitude to the order which admits saloon-keepers to its membership. It is now believed that the appeal of Herring will result in an Indiana church being largely, if not wholly, erected by contributions of Eagles from every State in the Union.

IRISH INDIGNATION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Post cards caricaturing St. Patrick and the Irish race which have been placed on sale in Chicago stores have provoked the active indignation of Irish-Americans and Roman Catholics generally. At a meeting of the Irish-American Union today in the Masonic Temple, the following resolution asking that the Chicago police be asked to interfere with the sale of such pictures, was passed:

Whereas, certain picture cards are displayed for sale in stores throughout Chicago that viciously caricature the Irish race, cast indignity on the memory of one of the most revered apostles of the Christian religion and shock the sensibility of the liberty-loving American public; therefore be it,

Resolved, that the Irish-American Union indignantly protests against this wanton indecency; that it calls on the Irish people to boycott those stores wherein said pictures are sold; that the attention of the officials of the postoffice be directed to the latter, to the end that said pictures be confiscated and the dealers prosecuted under the ordinance for the prevention of indecent literature."

The New York World published under the official sanction of Archbishop Quigley, in an editorial, calls Catholics of Chicago to fight against the sale of the cards. In part the editorial says:

"One of the insulting caricatures referred to, represents St. Patrick astride of a pig, a mitre upon his head, a clay pipe in his mouth. Other insults represent monkey-faced Irishmen astride of fat porkers, of course, with clay-pipe accompaniment.

"It is an insult to every Catholic in Chicago to put these things on sale. It is an insult to the culture and intelligence of Chicago and ought to be resented by every man and woman of good taste."

CHAMPIONS OF ST. PATRICK.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH, March 7.—At a mass meeting of Catholic societies of Allegheny county here today, resolutions were adopted protesting against the sale of postal cards ridiculing St. Patrick and the Irish race. A committee was appointed to communicate the resolutions in person to card dealers.

ERLANGER FOR MORALITY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A. L. Erlanger, head of the theatrical syndicate, who was in Chicago today, repeated the statement he made in New York last week that no one of the so-called immoral plays, of which there are a number being exhibited in Broadway theaters, will be booked in any of the playhouses controlled by him next season. He refused to discuss the matter in detail, declaring he was content to allow his reputation as a man of his word to stand for the sincerity of his statement. He might have a personal opinion of the policy of other theatrical managers, but it was not for the public. Asked concerning the possibility of his building more western theaters, he replied that the new Chicago theater of which he has spoken on previous visits, would positively be built but that he would make public neither its location nor plans until the proper time. Mr. Erlanger will return to New York tomorrow.

Man House Man Saved from Death by Cat.

Bride Nearly Freezes on Her Honeymoon Trip.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) March 5.—So glad was Ah King Lee, a Chinese merchant of this city, to regain $1100 which had been stolen from a bag of wheat in which he had hidden it, that he not only refused to prosecute the thief, but gave him $100 as reward for not saying with the money.

Almon Almerin, a young lad, was seen a few days ago mysteriously burying something in a back yard on Meyer. His action was immediately investigated by Deputy Sheriff Jack Sullivan. The officer found that Almerin was trying to secrete a small bag containing $1100 in gold.

Further investigation disclosed the fact that the money belonged to Ah Lee, who had hidden the vase in a bag of wheat in his store, having no confidence in banks. The lad had been employed moving some grain and accidentally discovered the cache. The Chinaman refused to accept and paid Almerin $100 for the return of the coin.

It is reported that of the twenty-two members of the Arizona ranger force discharged summarily by Governor Kibbey in making his appointments of the Legislature, not one has been able to secure employment within a year. Capt. Wheeler has been hired by the association of Cochise county cattlemen to chase down some horse thieves in Mexico, in which he will be aided by the Mexican authorities. A. Owens and John Redmond, two members of the force, didn't know of their dismissal until five days after it occurred. They were chasing horse thieves in Pinal county, and ran down their quarry after official explanation had been terminated. They are in the city lately and were very reticent concerning the manner in which the ranger force had been discharged. Langer Holmes at Roosevelt has been employed as a special officer by the Reclamation Service.

SNOWY HONEYMOON.

Two weeks ago occurred the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cole of Lowell. For a honeymoon trip they started into the Catalina Mountains in February 26, but were caught in the trail by a snowstorm and blizzard and had to camp for the night without fire, as they had no matches. They camped for two nights in the snow and finally started back home. They were compelled to abandon their rig part of the way down the mountains and spent two more days and nights under a great rock in considerable discomfort. They returned on Saturday in a hard plight, almost frozen to death and half starved.

For a short time the Tucson Building and Loan Association will be merged into the Citizens' Building and Loan Association, giving a joint organization with assets exceeding $1,000,000 and with over 300 stockholders.

SAVED BY CAT.

Part of Chinatown was wiped out by fire this morning, the blaze starting about 4 o'clock. The loss is estimated as high as $15,000, largely upon the stocks of several stores. Yet Lee, Chinaman, was awakened by the mewing of his cat, just in time to escape with his wife and daughter, leaving behind more than $1000 in paper money. Included in the loss was a diamond, with a dozen valuable stones.

Willcox is shipping point for large quantities of American goods exported to Mexico, much interest is locally taken in heavy advances lately made in the Mexican customs tariff. Not only has the tariff been advanced from 15 per cent. on a long list of articles, but many things have been specifically dutiable that have hitherto been admitted free.

General Passenger Agent Fee of the Santa Fe has given out a statement that the international train, known as the "Camron Ball" and known as the "Burro," will run from Benson southward after April 1. For a number of years it has run to Tucson, running through to Nogales by way of Nogales. It is said that a new time card will be put out April 1 on the main line.

MISSION MYSTERY.

Parties of surveyors have been out for a week or more northwest of Tucson on some secret scheme, believed to be the location of an electric line between Tucson and Silver Bell. At Globe, the Chamber of Commerce kindly offered its assistance to Kibbey in making his appointments of railroad commissioners under the act lately passed by the Legislature. It appeared there was quite a contest for the endorsement of C. H. Hamill, a former newspaperman, finally being selected.

Big plans are being made by the Elks for participation in the big convention of their order in Los Angeles next July. At least 1000 members of the order will go from Arizona, several special trains being run from points in the Territory. Each will wear a pearl gray suit with purple-banded crush hat, and large letters will appear on the "Arizona." The rest of the outfit will include a purple bow tie, white gloves, decorated cane and light canvas shoes. An incidental fund of $6000 has been raised to defray expenses of the trip and parade. The Arizona delegation in the parade will be led by the Elks of Tucson. The order has already chartered the Hollenbeck Hotel, where open house will be kept. Secretary Pickering, the City Clerk, has appointed H. G. Brown, foreman of the Indian Training School, to be superintendent of the police department at a salary of $125 a month, to succeed Thomas Wright. Hugh M. Warren has been appointed building and grounds janitor at $125 a month.

ONE BOY IN THIS SCHOOL.

Single Pupil Has Janitor and Teacher All to Himself.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One lone boy is the total enrollment of Pittsburgh school district, Columbia couty, Or. In all respects, however, the directors conduct the district as though the attendance was many times larger. John Hick, the janitor, sweeps out the building and builds a fire in the morning, and the teacher, Miss Pearl Black, rings the assembly bell. Then for six hours Willie Johnson studies and recites, after which school adjourns.

Last year there were eight children in the district, but several of them belonged to one family which moved away. The land for miles around the school is owned by timber corporations.

Wright was a member of the House for six years, and was elected to the Senate in 1904. The crime for which Emmons and Bunker have served time in San Quentin, was holding up the Continental Building and Loan Association by threatening them with adverse legislation and accepting bribes from their agents.

During his absence, Wright has visited nearly every Central and South American country, and was engaged as general agent for the International Harvester Company at Buenos Ayres, when he received word that he might return.

The indictment against him was dismissed on November 25, 1908, through the efforts of friends here, the motion being backed by Dist.-Atty. Wachhorst of Sacramento.

Wright intends to return to South America with his family.

MERCHANT THREATENED.

HAS BLACK-HAND LETTER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] L. F. Breuner, one of the foremost business men of Sacramento, has received a threatening letter signed by a Black Hand and bearing a skull and crossbones. He has asked the police to investigate the affair. The Federal authorities also will be requested to try to find the author of the threats, since the letter was sent through the mails.

Breuner was ordered to deposit $1000 in coin at a designated spot, near Eleventh and O streets, Thursday night, the penalty for failure being the burning of his property, and the abduction of one of his children. He took the matter as a joke at the time, so he lost a possible chance of catching the supposed blackmailer. Since then, on the advice of friends, he notified the police, who have been keeping the affair under cover, trying to ascertain if it is blackmail, a joke or the act of an insane person. Charles Schwilk, another business man, received similar letters recently, and they will also be investigated.

FRAUD SUSPECTED.

GAS COMPANY ON TRAIL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Evidence that a big swindle is suspected here by the Sacramento Electric, Gas and Railway Company has been furnished in the request sent out by that concern to its customers asking that its representative be allowed to examine their bills and receipts. This request is accompanied by a statement that its purpose is to verify accounts in its offices. It is said that the company has discharged an employé from a responsible position and has found reason to suspect embezzlement and falsification of accounts. The rumors are that the company has been mulcted of a large sum and that when the facts become public through arrest and prosecution there will be a sensation.

Aged Worker Held Prisoner for Many Hours.

Rain Beats on Unprotected Head All Night.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OAKLAND, March 7.—Buried up to his neck for thirteen hours in the slimy mud that forms the bottom of the Oakland estuary and with a cold rain pelting him, James L. Angliar, aged 77 years, was rescued today, and appeared none the worse for his experience.

Angliar is employed on the dredger working in the canal and attempted to go ashore last evening on a narrow plank. He lost his footing and plunged into the mud piled along the shore, just out of reach of the tide.

He sank deeper and deeper until he dared cry out no more, as the water reached his chin. When morning came his faint calls were heard, and he was dragged out. He asked for no other restorative than food and sleep.

TRY TO ENTER HIGH SCHOOL.

Endeavorers Propose to Extend Operating Field.

Scheme Is Broached Before Intermediate Union.

Plan Receives Immediate Favor; Is Talked Over.

A movement to carry the Christian Endeavor work into the high schools of Los Angeles was inaugurated at the rally of the City Intermediate Union held at the First Christian Church, Eleventh and Hope streets, yesterday afternoon.

The idea was broached by one of the speakers, who was a delegate to the county convention at Long Beach, where the work done by the Christian Endeavor in the High School of Santa Barbara was recounted. The plan received immediate favor, and at the close of the meeting the members who are pupils of the High School were requested to remain and talk the matter over.

Miss Edith M. Graves, superintendent of the Intermediate Union, discussed the proposed work with the students, and, while no definite plans were formulated, it was agreed that the members would work for the present as individuals to arouse interest in the Christian Endeavor movement among the pupils of the High School.

The meeting of the city union was the first held this year, and there were several hundred representatives of the twenty-two societies in attendance. The spirit and enthusiasm of the Endeavorers were attested by the keen interest which was maintained in the two and a half hours of the session. Harold Cross led the praise service with which the meeting opened, and Marion Wright, president of the city union, presided. All of the participants were officers or members of the intermediate union.

"GIVE," THAT'S IT.

Miss Ruth Muncy spoke on "Devotionals;" Miss Edith Haselite on "The Value of Prayer Circles," and Miss Elsie Jones on "The Missionary Work of Intermediates." Clarence Lloyd, in a talk on "Why and How Tithe," told about the Tenth Legion and its purpose. The members of this branch of the Endeavorers pledge themselves to give one-tenth of all they make to the work of God. The speaker deplored the lack of interest in the Tenth Legion, to which not more than an average of five members from each society belong.

Emphasizing the results that would follow an observance of the scriptural injunction regarding tithe by the Christian people of Europe and America, he said it would raise enough money in one year to make it possible to evangelize the whole world in a decade.

"What the Convention Meant to Me" was the subject of a talk by John Clark, which aroused interest in the work of the Endeavorers in high schools. He was a delegate to the convention at Long Beach, and spoke of the matters which impressed him most there, among them being the report on the Endeavor work in the High School at Santa Barbara. He said he believed it would be a good thing to introduce in the High School in Los Angeles. Alexander Garaway, who was the last speaker, said he thought the high-school idea was a good one, and that more should be heard about it. He suggested the conference that was held at the close of the meeting.

Miss Graves urged the members to be more liberal in their contributions to carry on the work of the society. She thought the Tenth Legion idea was a good one for them to follow. Announcement was made of a banquet and conference of the officers and members of the intermediate union to be held at the Y.W.C.A. building on March 28.

The intermediate union comprises twenty-two societies with a total of 750 members, ranging from 14 to 29 years of age. The superintendent, Miss Graves, who is also an officer in the senior union, is the guiding spirit, and an untiring worker. During the last year her duties became so onerous that she was given an assistant, Miss Marguerite Muncy. These superintendents visit all the intermediate societies, and confer with and advise the superintendents of the various churches.

Other officers of the union are: President, Marion Wright; vice-presidents, Walter Hixson and Ruth Muncy; secretary, Miss Margaret Gatter; treasurer, Harold Brown.

POSSE AND ROBBERS IN BATTLE ON RUN.

Woman, Seeing Hold-up at Her Doorstep, Gives Alarm, Citizens Respond and Scour Riverbed—Police Capture Two—Prisoners Refuse to Talk.

A RUNNING gun fight, a man hunt in the dark pitfalls of the river bed and the arrest of two dangerous highwaymen by police from the East Side precinct were resultant of a woman's quick-wittedness early last evening. The woman is Mrs. Thomas Preston of No. 3710 Pasadena avenue.

That the two bandits are now in East Side Police Station is due to the fact that Mrs. Preston possesses the quality of quick conception and action, a brave husband and a telephone in her home. Police believe that the two men, who gave the names of Joseph Cota and Bert. Carter, both mere youths, are the highwaymen who have terrorized the East Side for several weeks, committing almost nightly robberies and burglaries. Numerous Monte Vista street hold-ups are credited to them by the officers.

As has been the case for several weeks, the two desperadoes began their operations early in the night. At 8 o'clock J. F. Watkins reported to the East Side Station that he had been held up by two men on Monte Vista street near Avenue 50, and had been robbed of $3 in money and a watch. The description he was able to furnish tallied with that of the highwaymen who had been frequently reported to the station.

WOMAN GIVES ALARM.

Half an hour later Mrs. Preston, looking out of a window from her home, saw two men holding up a pedestrian at her very doorstep. Telling her husband what she had seen, Mrs. Preston flew to the telephone and notified the East Side police.

Mr. Preston quickly ran out by the rear of his house to the residence next door of Deputy Sheriff H. D. Watts and told of the crime being enacted. While Watts went to get his revolver Preston went to the house of another neighbor, A. G. Dixon, and summoned him.

With this force gathered the three men cut in between the houses and made for the street. The robbers were then going through their victim, one holding a revolver at his head while the other searched his pockets.

As the trio approached the two bandits set off on Pasadena avenue toward the south at top speed. Their victim, who was evidently fearful of the newcomers, scooted off in another direction. His identity could not be learned last night.

BATTLE AS THEY RUN.

Watts, Preston and Dixon started in chase after the robbers, and when the pursued refused to heed Watts's command of "Stop or I will fire," the officer sent several bullets flying over their heads. At the crack of the first shot both highwaymen turned and fired several shots at their pursuers, but all the bullets went wild. Another series of shots by Watts brought a fusillade from the fleeing bandits, but owing to the darkness and that all the parties were running none of the pellets found a human target.

After a chase of several blocks the robbers made for the riverbed, where in the darkness they eluded their pursuers. The shots of the gun fight had aroused the entire neighborhood and a dozen men quickly began a systematic search of the river bottom. Revolvers were dragged from bureau drawers, and, owing to the gun play made by the footpads when first given chase, none of the pursuing posse expected they would be taken without a fight to the finish. For an hour the river bottom was filled with an armed host, searching every nook and hiding place in the low lands, determined to rid the district of the scourge which had terrorized the neighborhood for so long.

INTO ARMS OF OFFICERS.

But despite the wide search, the robbers made their getaway only to run into the arms of Police Sergts. Adams and Sparks at Avenue 22 and the Santa Fé tracks. Evidently after following the river bed for some time the footpads had taken to the tracks. When detailed on the case after the telephone message of Mrs. Preston, the officers deduced that the men would make for the city and that they would take the path of easiest travel—the railroad tracks—not realizing that a telephone message had gone to the East Side barracks ahead of them. Hugging a fence along the railroad the officers had a good view of the tracks and saw the men approaching. Just as the two runners were passing, the policemen covered them with their revolvers.

The latter surrendered without attempting to draw their guns, the chambers of which were found filled with fresh cartridges, both having taken time to refill the chambers. When questioned at the East Side Station neither of the men would talk. The police are now searching for their rooms, where they expect to find booty of many hold-ups.

YOKOHAMA, March 7.—A special dispatch published here stating that the appointment of Oscar S. Straus, Secretary of Commerce and Labor in President Roosevelt's Cabinet, as Ambassador to Japan, is virtually assured, is creating much comment in the Japanese newspapers.

GREETS HER FRIENDS.

Miss Helen Gould Holds Reception for Returned Bluejackets of Atlantic Fleet.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Helen Gould shook hands with sailors of the Rhode Island, Ohio and Chester who left their ships in the Brooklyn navy yard to enjoy her welcome this afternoon in the naval branch of the Y.M.C.A. on Sand street, Brooklyn, on the occasion of their return from the world cruise. There was abundant evidence that the jackies were glad to get back to their cosy quarters in the building which was erected through Miss Gould's bounty.

She was accompanied by several pretty girls, students at Vassar, who are spending the week end at her Fifth-avenue home. The sailors assembled in the Y.M.C.A. theater at 5 p.m., and took active part in the religious services.

It is many a day since the building rang with a heartier chorus than the sailors raised in the singing of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee." The Rev. Dr. Carson, pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, Brooklyn, delivered an address.

At its conclusion the jackies formed in line, and marching to the platform, were presented, each by name, to Miss Gould, who gave them a cordial hand-clasp and a cheering message. She invited them to a tea at which she presided, in the "den," and nearly 100 accepted her hospitality. The 400 rooms in the building are all taken since the arrival of the returning battleships.

"I wish to welcome all the boys home," said Miss Gould. "I have watched your trip around the world with interest. I want to tell you about another dear friend of yours, Mrs. Russell Sage, who would also be here to welcome you back had she not broken her arm a few weeks ago. I visit her frequently and every time I see her she brings out the postal cards she has received from the men of the fleet and shows me the pictures of the places visited and what you have written to her. She sends her best wishes to you."

The jackies cheered Miss Gould lustily. Three cheers were given also for Mrs. Sage.

ELECTION ROW FATAL.

Bitterness in Italy's General Elections Causes Many Conflicts and Troops Are Called Upon.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ROME, March 7.—General elections were held throughout Italy for the new Chamber of Deputies. The campaign had been apathetic, but the voting resulted in many conflicts and much excitements in some provinces. In Caserta province a man was killed.

The government, in anticipation of trouble, had taken preventive measures, and the troops eventually succeeded in securing order.

According to partial returns received tonight, the present ministry is given a large majority in the new chamber.

The Clericals almost in full force participated in the elections for the first time since 1870. Premier Giolitti still is arbiter of the situation and Italy's position with regard to her foreign policy, which did not figure in the campaign, remains unchanged, all except the extreme parties favoring the maintenance of the triple alliance, with friendship for Great Britain and France.

The anti-Clericals were successful in three constituencies in Rome where they stood against the Clericals.

ROOT NEW YORK LEADER.

Former Senator Platt Says New Senator Will Wield Great Power in State.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, March 7.—Elihu Root will be the Republican leader of New York, according to a published interview credited to former Senator T. C. Platt, who has just returned from Washington.

"Elihu Root will head the Republican organization, because of donning the Senatorial toga," Mr. Platt is quoted as having said. "His powers are only less than those of the President, and he and President Taft are on close terms."

When Mr. Platt was asked whether Mr. Loeb's appointment did not indicate that Theodore Roosevelt planned to control Republican politics in this State on his return from the African hunt, he said:

"Any man who goes to Africa for a year cannot expect to keep his hold in a political way. I believe Mr. Roosevelt purposes to retire permanently from the field of political endeavor. Mr. Roosevelt will not be heard from politically hereafter."

BLUEJACKET COMMENDED.

PHILADELPHIA, March 7.—The battleship Kearsarge, the second of the around-the-world fleet to reach here, arrived at League Island this afternoon. The vessel will be taken to the back bay tomorrow and thoroughly overhauled. Theodore Lents, a blacksmith aboard the Kansas, was publicly commended today in a letter from Secretary Newberry for work in forging a new high-pressure cylinder ring to take the place of one which broke while the Kearsarge was steaming from Colombo to the Suez Canal.

WOMAN IN CHARGE.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Mrs. William H. Taft has abolished the position of White House steward and will conduct her domestic arrangements through a woman housekeeper.

While the season of prescribed official dinners is over, it may be predicted that the new tenant of the White House will conduct a series of informal social functions during the special session of Congress, which will bring renewed animation and social life to the sedate and somber structure during the Taft régime.

He quotes a manager who said to him that 'He could not produce popular priced thrillers successfully without having wayward girls and slum life in the spotlight.' And, finally, he writes: 'A play produced in New York depicted in its opening scene a raid on an establishment which would not be mentioned before decent women. How would you feel some evening to have your sixteen-year-old daughter open up a dinner table dissertation on subjects to which you wouldn't think of alluding before a decent woman?' And he ought to have said also 'a decent man.'

"For the present I will leave this subject of the tainted theater. I began this discussion several weeks ago for the purpose of instructing my own congregation. By defenders of the theater the discussion has reached out into this entire community. For the present I will let it rest. In another season, I fear, the sewage and carrion that have been found in eastern theaters this season, will spread moral defilement and disease over the Middle West; and probably our Sunset Coast will receive deadly reinforcements, and the corruption of our local theaters will be diabolically augmented. So long as the family, the temple, the flag, the schools and the characters of our people are assailed by the theater, and my voice is preserved to me, I do not expect to cease my denunciations of this and all other evils; God helping me!

"Last Sunday evening at this chancel, after my sermon, a weeping mother said to me with sobs. 'My son is attending the Sunday theater tonight.' Herein lies my commission to fight the theater. It defiles a mother's heart and the Holy Sabbath, and thereby strikes at the foundations of the home, the church and the government."

Dr. Locke in his sermon also denounced the pernicious book, and games of chance. He quoted a converted gambler: "The saloon men and gamblers chuckle and smile when they read in the papers of the parlor games given by ladies, for they know that after awhile these same men will become patrons of their business. I say the parlor game is the college where gamblers are made and educated. In the name of God stop this business in your homes. Burn up your decks and wash your hands."

As to the dance Dr. Locke said: "The old-fashioned minuet and quadrille were no doubt harmless, but, except for physical culture exercises, who ever hears of them now? The dance whether private or public is irretrievably evil; it can never be redeemed. The public dance halls are traps of the devil and should be done and all summarily suppressed. The Los Angeles Times some time ago, referring to these dance halls, says: 'Dancing, at best, is an amusement that has a certain dangerous lure about it. We do not hesitate to say that no young man in this community, who has the faintest suspicion of respect for his own sister, would allow her to enter these places and to associate with the people who are to be found there regularly.'

"Some of these dance halls are running Sunday evening. In the interest of personal purity the dance should be eliminated from all society. No self-respecting young woman should be willing to dance with any man. It is not forgotten that in the devil's last unsuccessful attempt to capture St. Anthony he sent a group of handsome women to invite him to dance with them."

In severe language Dr. Locke also denounced social wine drinking, and cordially commended President Taft on his recent resolve to become a total abstainer.

WEDDING A SURPRISE.

First Ceremony in New Home of Rev. Dr. Locke Is for Mr. and Mrs. Arnold.

Charles Arnold, a local business man, and Miss Alta Rich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Rich of No. 888 East Twentieth street, were married last Saturday evening by Rev. Edward Locke. They are the first couple to be married in Dr. Locke's new residence in the Westlake district.

The marriage was a surprise to the friends of the couple, as no one except the parents knew that they were even engaged. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold left yesterday morning on their honeymoon for San Diego, where they will spend two weeks.

CELEBRATE PURIM HERE.

Twenty-three hundred years ago yesterday occurred the victory of the Jews over Haman, the anniversary of which is celebrated by Hebrews the world over, and is known as the feast of Purim. The feast was commemorated by the Jewish congregations of Los Angeles. Last night Ahabath Zion Society, which has for its object the restoration of Palestine to the Jews, honored the day with a meeting at Foresters' Hall, No. 107½ North Main street, at which addresses were delivered by the president, A. Shapiro and W. Meinkopf.

E. J. Lewis, president of the Newport Bay Improvement Association, has received a letter from Senator Leroy A. Wright of San Diego, in which he says that he has no ambition to be a United States Senator or Governor of the State, and that he has refused to serve on any holdover committee.

At the banquet of the Newport Chamber of Commerce to be held tomorrow evening at the Balboa Hotel, Mr. Lewis is to read a letter from Senator Melrose, who introduced the bills declaring Newport Bay to be navigable water, and for the allowing of duck hunting along all such navigable waters.

GLOBE-TROTTING.

IN THEIR PATH MANY NATIONS.

PARTY STARTS TODAY ON TRIP AROUND WORLD.

Some Angelenos Will Girdle the Earth, but Others Will Go Only as Far as the Orient—Four Months Will Be Devoted to Journey—The Itinerary.

Nearly a score of prominent Los Angeles men and women leave this morning for a trip around the world Charles M. Stimson and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pomeroy expect to return home in about four months. The rest will prolong their stay in Europe indefinitely.

Eight tourists who are to visit Japan, China and the Philippines, will accompany the globe-trotters part way. They include Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Eldridge, Lewis S. Hoyt, Alexander Crawford Hoyt, Mrs. Hannah B. Irwin, Mrs. George L. Patterson, Mrs. Lillian C. Westlake and Miss Ruth Woodward.

The round-the-world party consists of the following: Charles M. Stimson, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pomeroy, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Brotherton, H. F. Behrens, Mrs. J. Miller Brown, Mrs. Agnes C. Chichester, Miss Katherine Chichester, Mrs. Gertrude Dana, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Hall, Mrs. Christina Mackenzie, Miss Nettie Mackenzie, Miss Sophia Mackenzie, Mrs. Mattie B. Marsh, Prof. J. G. Rodgers, Dr. M. E. Spinks, Mr. and Mrs. James Wright.

The travelers sail from San Francisco tomorrow afernoon on the Pacific Mail steamer Korea. The first stop will be at Honolulu. The leading cities of Japan will next be visited. In China stops will be made at Shanghai, Hongkong and other places of interest. The globe-trotters will leave Hongkong for Singapore April 21. The party plans to reach Ceylon May 3. The next stop will be at Aden, Arabia. After passing through the Suez Canal, Cairo will be reached about the middle of May. An excursion to the Pyramids has been planned, and other side trips.

Considerable time will be spent in the Holy Land. Later the travelers will reach Naples, Italy. From that country they will go to Switzerland. About June 19 the party will be at the Hotel Continental, Paris. The itinerary calls for a trip to England the last of June, but some of the party may prefer to remain in France. The Pomeroys and Mr. Stimson expect to leave Southampton, Eng., on the Kronprinzessin Cecilie for New York, the last of June, arriving in New York July 6.

The itinerary was arranged for the Angelenos by D. F. Robertson, manager of the steamship department of the German American Savings Bank. The tickets are huge affairs, with all sorts of coupons attached, good for railway fare, steamship passage, and other incidentals.

"We are anticipating a fine time," said Mr. Pomeroy last night. "Though I have been abroad several times and have visited the Orient, I have never taken the complete round-the-world trip. There are a number of congenial persons in the party, and we are optimistic enough to predict that nothing will occur to mar the pleasure of the long journey."

MAKING GOOD.

GREAT SUCCESS ATTENDS VISITOR.

COOPER CONVINCING MANY LOS ANGELES PEOPLE.

Local Resident Says Young Easterner's Preparation Has All the Merit He Claims for It—Wife Was Ill Fourteen Years Until Recently Trying Medicine.

Some astonishing demonstrations were given Monday afternoon by L. T. Cooper, the man who is now in Los Angeles introducing the preparations which have been so widely discussed in the East.

Cooper is meeting the public at the Owl Drug Company's store, 625 South Broadway, and at this store the demonstrations took place. They consisted of a single application of one of the Cooper preparations in the ears of a number of deaf people, the hearing being tested before the application and again three minutes later.

The result of this application was truly remarkable. In several cases individuals who stated they had been afflicted with deafness for many years heard a watch tick when held a foot away from the ear, or the snap of a finger at distances varying from ten to twenty feet away.

All tests were made within three minutes from the time the preparation was first applied. Many of those who received the demonstrations became much excited when conversation in an ordinary tone was addressed to them and they were able to hear it. One elderly woman broke down completely the only trouble with them is bad about her and the conversation of her friends.

Among those who received the demonstration was Mrs. William Miller of 2318 Huron street. Shortly afterward, when interviewed, she said: "I don't know how it was done, but I really do hear. I can't believe any medicine on earth could do this, yet this seems to have made me hear. The worst part of my deafness has been head noises. These have stopped, and my head feels clear. The strangest part of it is the noise of the streets. I had forgotten how loud they were. My deafness has been caused by catarrh. It has only been real bad for five years, but it was coming on slowly long before that."

Cooper, in speaking of the demonstrations, said: "There is nothing miraculous about it. The remedy is only effective in cases of deafness induced by catarrhal condition. Such cases can, as you see, be relieved at once. It does not follow that a man deaf from birth can be made to hear in three minutes, or, for that matter, in three years.

Another preparation altogether is the one I have been successful with in the East. This preparation is for stomach trouble. I expect to see a great many thousands of Californians taking this medicine before I leave. I can convince any half sick, easily tired, droopy man or woman on earth that the only trouble with them is bad digestion if they will try this medicine."—[Adv.

I want every person who suffers with any form of Kidney ailment, no matter how many remedies they have tried, no matter how many doctors they have consulted, no matter how serious the case, to give Munyon's Kidney Remedy a trial. You will be astonished to see how quickly it relieves all pains in the back, loins and groins caused by the kidneys. You will be surprised to see how quickly it reduces the swelling in the feet and legs, also puffiness under the eyes, after taking a few doses of this remedy. You will be delighted to see the color returning to your cheeks and feel the thrill of vigor and good cheer. If your Urine is thick or milky, if it is pale and foamy, if it contains sediments or brickdust, if it is highly colored or has an offensive smell, if you urinate frequently, you should persist in taking this remedy until all symptoms disappear. We believe this remedy has cured more serious kidney ailments than all the Kidney medicines that have been compounded. Professor Munyon believes that the terrible death rate from Bright's Disease and Diabetes is unnecessary and will be greatly reduced by this remedy.

Go at once to your druggist and purchase a bottle of Munyon's Kidney remedy. If it fails to give satisfaction I will refund your money.—Munyon.

Mr. Taft will not dread the hard work that's ahead of him. He has grown fat on hard work.

It seems that the Balkan war cloud is determined to stay in the air until somebody takes a shot at it.

Los Angeles is a Republican town, which fact, as much as anything else, explains why it is not a recall town.

E. Toopious Earl, ex-rebater, is the man behind George Alexander. This is all that the people care to know.

The way things are looking now, we'll be goshdinged if we think "Uncle" George will even get the whiskers vote.

If Mr. Jeffries can in no other way reduce his weight, Mr. Johnson stands ready to take a little of the hide off him.

Our month of March is equivalent to the eastern month of May, only we do not have snowstorms mixed in with it.

"Przemysl," "Saujak of Novibazar," etc. These are the things we must wrestle with if an Austrian-Servian war breaks out.

The Italians would doubtless be glad to join the Servians in a war against Austria if for no other reason than to even up old scores.

As far as "the wearin' o' the green" is concerned, Southern California never was in better shape to celebrate St. Patrick's Day.

Judging from the reports brought back by Rev. Angelicus Idone, the Italian earthquake fund has been Abe Rueffed to a certain extent.

If "Lucky" Baldwin had one wife that the public never heard of, there may be others. At any rate, expert will lawyers still have hopes.

There are frequent instances of men who never allowed other people to make fools of them, but who afterward made fools of themselves.

When it comes to a vote of the people, Los Angeles and San Pedro will get together as naturally as two sweethearts on a moonshiny night.

The only European nation that really can afford the expense of a war is France, and France is thinking less of war than any of the others.

Once in the history of Los Angeles the recall was actually put into effect, but what did it do to us? God bless us, do you remember that?

A number of Indiana women have asked Mrs. Taft not to serve wine in the White House. She never intended to do so. That's the business of the waiters.

It isn't long any more until the Elks will be in Los Angeles—150,000 of them, which, at only $75 each, amounts to $11,250,000. What d'ye know about that?

When Samuel J. Tilden and Charles O'Connor couldn't make a will that would stand in law, we don't think there are any lawyers now living who can do it.

It must break the hearts of the pink sock blackmailers that they can't find fault with Mayor Harper's appointment of Judge Dillon to the Police Commission.

The whole body of the voters are about to be given an opportunity to either approve or condemn "the recall"—a political idiosyncrasy. Let the verdict be emphatic.

Senator Savage does not acknowledge that he has been downed. But he may be willing to admit that when he closed his hands on the thing he had hold of, it wasn't there.

No doubt Editor Roosevelt will often wonder while he is cut off from the news in the jungle whether Pulitzer and Delavan Smith and those fellows have got as far as the jail.

Although Mr. Harriman is down in Texas practicing pistol shooting, another railroad, up north is about to fall into his hands. Railroads seem to just naturally chase after that man.

It will have to be something more serious than a quarrel over a game of marbles that will plunge this country into war while William Howard Taft is in the White House and Elihu Root is in the Senate.

The manufacturers of the particular brand of automobile used by President Taft will doubtless find an increasing sale for their output. It takes a good strong buzz wagon to haul Mr. Taft hither and yon.

It is a heavy responsibility that at this moment rests on James Jasper Jeffries of Los Angeles. He is the only man living who stands the ghost of a chance to demonstrate the superiority of the white race.

It was a wet winter and we are not now having what you would call a dry spring. All of which is great for the poppies, the alfalfa, the spuds and everything else that California needs for her comfort and prosperity.

We have no doubt that "Uncle" George was a nice man back yonder in the toorarooral district where he came from, but that has nothing to do with his qualifications for the office of Mayor of a modern metropolis like Los Angeles.

Mrs. Roosevelt's notion that a woman's name should appear in print only when she is married and when she is buried, if carried out would still give the papers a chance to make frequent mention of Lillian Russell and other actresses who get married every so often.

PROTECTION FOR OIL.

California oil men are doing well in moving vigorously against any proposition to remove the duty on crude petroleum or any of its by-products, thus aligning themselves with the eastern and mid-continent producers. It is a vital matter. This year a cut in the tariff would probably make no practical difference as Mexico is hardly ready to send oil abroad. Next year it might not be dangerous, but in time it would be.

Once taken off, it is almost impossible to get a duty on again. There is an increasing reluctance to tinker the tariff often and a disposition to let schedules remain standing as long as possible. California has been trying for years to get a revision of the asphalt duties and each time our application has been turned down on the plea that it would be against policy to make any changes except at a time of general revision.

Take the duty off oil now, and for a time California suffers none; then Mexico gets a little surplus and begins to sell fuel in Hawaii, one of our best markets; next the Standard begins to bring up a shipload of light product every once in awhile, whenever there is a shortage for refining at such prices as the octopus wants to pay; then California will want protection; and the asphalt situation will repeat itself.

The vast possible output of Mexico is pretty well known by this time. The production has barely begun. To date the Pearsons have sent little oil to market but they will be in a position to produce and ship more all the time. On the Isthmus of Tehuantepec they can reach either coast with ease. Suppose it is years before they have anything for foreign trade, that is no reason for taking chances. A shipload or two may play havoc with the market.

Moreover, Mexico's oil is chiefly a fuel product, similar to California's. There is also some high gravity that can be refined and could compete with the lighter oils of Coalinga, Santa Maria and Fullerton. As fuel the Ebano oil has proved equal to the best in the world. It is also a fine asphalt maker. Entering free of duty, it could be delivered at the lowest figures at Galveston, New Orleans, New York and on the whole Atlantic seaboard. The Mexican Petroleum's wells flow thousands of barrels daily in many instances and have continued doing so for years. The cost of production is therefore very small, far less than anywhere in the United States; the wells are very near tidewater and, while it is true that skilled workmen must be brought from the States at top-notch wages, natives do the ordinary labor at a very low scale. Then, too, the Mexican government grants aids in the form of many valuable privileges unknown here. The holders of these are Americans and Britishers who will push their advantages to the limit.

Mexico is not the only factor. Peru has a small but growing production, mostly light oil, according to the few advices received. Fifteen years ago that country actually sent oil to San Francisco. Products of the Point Richmond refinery go to Peru but whether they pay duty we are not informed. If they go free, Peruvian oil can enter this country without tax; if not, it must pay duty equivalent to what our oil is charged. Some day the output may be great enough to become a competitor of California's right here as it is already on a small scale as fuel in Chili.

Japan produces some oil, and may yield more. The Mikado's tankers are coming here regularly. They have only one-way cargoes unless they bring light oil from Nippon or elsewhere in the Orient. They come here for fuel oil principally. If they can get a load of light refining oil for Point Richmond they will do it. The Standard's own tankers, too, are running to the Orient. They have already been used to bring back oil from Sumatra to help out the shortage of light products, and the result has not been very satisfactory to the producers.

If any change is made in the tariff it should never be made along the line of admitting free the oil of countries that tax ours. Even reciprocity, so far as California is concerned, has worked to the advantage of the foreigner.

While campaigning to keep the duty on oil there should be no let-up in the fight for asphalt protection and to prevent the removal of the duty on foreign coal, which will compete with us in the Northwest.

TWO CAMPAIGNS ALIKE.

For the second time the recall procedure is being tried in this city. The first attempt was to recall a Councilman, the second to recall the Mayor. It is worth while to note the traits of resemblance in the two cases.

Annually the city advertising is let by the Council. Newspapers and "organs" bid for it. On a certain occasion the Evening Express entered into a corrupt bargain with the Journal by which the Express was to get $1000 for keeping out of the competition and letting the award go to the Journal at a higher price than the service was worth. The Express took the rake-off and put the money in its pocket, as the owner of the Express had done with rebates on oranges shipped over the railroads. The year following a similarly corrupt bargain was entered into by the Express and the Journal, but The Times exposed the game, and the Express had to let go of the rebate.

The Times, to make all parties come to taw, put in a bid, went before the Council and argued that if publicity were the thing desired the city would get more of the article for a dollar by giving the printing to The Times at our rate than to any other paper at half the bids of the lowest one. The Times argued that the award should go to the paper offering to do the work for the lowest price, circulation considered. The whole Council voted (not Councilman Davenport alone) that the printing should go to The Times. It was a fair business proposition, and the contention cannot be controverted that the intention of the law was followed in this case, and is violated in every instance where any other course is pursued. The Times gets higher rates for commercial advertising because it brings better results; why should the city not keep the spirit of the law and let the people know what is being done?

But the exposure of the $1000 steal angered E. T. Earl, owner of the Express; and by him and other enemies of The Times the recall of Capt. Davenport, an old soldier and an honest man, a good Councilman, was decided on, not because he had more to do than others in the Council with letting the contract, but because he came from a ward where the trick was likely to work. Malice, an ambition to control the official acts of city officials, hatred of The Times, by men whose maleficent deeds had been exposed by this journal, lay at the bottom of it.

And the same influences lie at the root of this second attempt to work the recall, this time on the Mayor. The same enemies of The Times have begun this recall that began the other. They missed their aim before, for the courts ordered the city to pay the just bills presented by The Times for the services rendered, and to Councilman Davenport they awarded his salary for the full term to which he was elected.

On the present occasion these enemies of The Times are firing blank cartridges at long range. We have no personal interest in this affair. The Mayor is not of our selection. His administration is no worse than others, though it is not such as we have always contended for.

But the spite that stirred the recall of Davenport is the mainspring in the attempt to recall the Mayor, and the malevolent impulses rankle in the same breasts that hated Davenport for the same reason. Davenport could not be controlled by C. D. Willard and E. T. Earl, nor can Harper. When you get at the root of the matter there is where the motive power is found. If the Council had let the Express, E. T. Earl's toy organ, get away with the $1000 to be paid by the Journal, which was to get the city printing, the recall of Davenport would not have taken place. If the Mayor had allowed E. T. Earl, C. D. Willard, Meyer Lissner and a few others to dictate his official policies, he would not have been attacked. He might have let all the dives in town run wide open, and thrown the lid in the sea. So long as these people could "run things" in their way, the Mayor might have had his way in all else.

These two cases in which the recall has been put in action prove that it is a vicious and dangerous weapon to put in the hands of any small minority of voters. These cases convince us that Los Angeles will have no peace so long as the provision is in the charter and designing knaves, tricksters, and rebaters, can use it to further their schemes. In no conceivable case will we ever uphold any attempt to use this vicious weapon. It is of more consequence to the city in the years to come to take the edge off of the dangerous weapon and to break the handle from it than is any transient interest, or the political fate of any person.

There are thousands of our citizens who see these matters in another light. That is their affair. Those who are acting in good faith must settle the matter according to their own judgment and with their own conscience. That is what we are doing. With the sincere and earnest we have no quarrel. Claiming the right of private judgment for ourselves, we must concede it to others.

We abide in hope and confidence that these earnest, sincere citizens will before long see things in a different light. We are sure that if the recall succeeds and a pliant man gets into the Mayor's seat, so that the malign influences now behind the recall game can have their way, there will be a great awakening in the short period of the year that will be left.

BUILD SCENIC ROADS.

The State wide—or rather the State length, as we should say in California—movement for good roads, appears to have awakened various communities to do a great deal of local road building on their own account, partly for their own edification and pleasure and partly for the benefits that will accrue from attracting tourists and visitors from other portions of the State and the world.

Particularly are the counties which border on the foothills giving attention to the work of building scenic roads. For instance, a road is being projected that shall lead out of Redlands and skirt the foothills back of Highland and Patton to terminate at the foot of Arrowhead Mountain. This road will open up scenes to the eye which are not surpassed for beauty and grandeur anywhere in the wide world. Orange groves, a valley perfect in artistic requirements and the snow-capped peaks of the Sierra Madres will there furnish panoramas and vistas at once majestic and entrancing. It is a road that, once completed, will become famous in a day. The money spent to build the road will come back to the communities every year from the pockets of sightseers.

Add to the unrivaled climate of Southern California roads that are equal to those of France, and the tourist trade of the world shall be garnered by us. With a system of State highways and collateral systems of scenic roads built and maintained by each county, and distinct locality, we shall attract to this part of this planet every man and woman who has dollars to spend in the pursuit of health and pleasure.

THE FAD FAILED.

Hon. Isaac Stephenson has triumphed over Battle Bob La Follette and all his other enemies, including the popular vote for United States Senator in Wisconsin. The "direct" fad was devised and employed as the only way to keep Stephenson from going back to Washington. It failed. Uncle Isaac carried the primaries, and then the kickers set to work to rob him of the fruits of the victory won by their own weapons. Then he got a majority vote of each branch of the Legislature, and still Battle Bob kept kicking in a vain attempt to prevent a joint ballot from finishing the work. In each conflict the fad failed and the faddists bit the dust of political defeat.

Isaac Stephenson is represented as a very bad man. Wisconsin knows, but the world does not know, with what high crimes and misdemeanors "Uncle Ike" is charged. The same clique said Senator Spooner was a bad man. This is not credited by any one out of Wisconsin, and not by many there.

Reverting to the science of physiognomy, we as experts boldly declare that we would rather meet Stephenson in the dark, in the woods, in politics, in business or in social intercourse than have to deal with Battle Bob in any relation of life.

Servia certainly expects help if she engages in a war against Austria. Which nation is supposed to represent the colored person in the wood-pile?

CHANCE TO MAKE HIS MARK.

ARBOR DAY, SCHOOL GROUNDS AND SCHOOLS.

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Edward Hyatt, has issued from the State press a beautiful little brochure on Arbor Day in California in 1909. The wide distribution of this little pamphlet, with its carefully-prepared instructions on the planting of trees and its beautiful illustrations showing the effect of trees on school grounds and parks, will undoubtedly have a very happy effect.

The beautification of school grounds is one of the most encouraging movements of the time. The old-time school yard with its unsightly appearance, often filthy, was anything but conducive to the cultivation of taste or even cleanliness. With the growing conviction of the importance of outdoor life and exercise, of the necessity of physical as well as mental development, of the truth of the old proverb that a sound body is as desirable as the habitation of a sound mind, the school grounds are receiving attention not known to our fathers.

A still broader conception of the use of school grounds and schoolhouses is springing up all over the United States. The idea has been suggested by some clear-sighted person that the vast sums of money in the educational plants of the country should be used as the merchant uses his place of business, to the greatest possible extent. As has been the case, the schools have been utilized purely for class exercises lasting some six hours out of the twenty-four. This broadening idea suggests a larger use of them, forming the pupils into various societies for the cultivation of special branches of education, art or domestic science. In some of our cities the suggestion has been made that the schoolhouses be used evenings by associations of grown people intent upon self-culture and improvement.

Here we have a varied programme, in tree planting generally, in the beautifying of school grounds particularly with trees, and in the permission of the use of the schoolhouses as indicated above, which gives ground for hopefulness for great development. It has ceased to be the philosophy of education that the three R's constitute the whole curriculum. Domestic science is recognized as a more important branch of study year by year. It is also very encouraging for the future of our country to note the attention that is given to the cultivation of taste. A love of trees and flowers, a desire to keep things clean and neat, an interest in good literature, a knowledge of domestic sciences and an ability to practise handicrafts, are all things that make for a higher plane of living, a higher type of citizenship and better manhood physically, mentally and morally.

A SONG OF LIFE.

Praised be the lips of the morn
For their musical message of light,
For their bird-chanted burden of song,
Praised be the young earth reborn
For the freshness and glory and might
And the thoughts of high, solemn delight,
That a flash of its purity throng.

Praised be the lips of the day
For their clarion call to the field
Where the battle of life must be fought.
Praised be the fire of the fray
Where the soul is refined and annealed,
And the spirit heroic revealed,
And pure gold from base substances wrought.

Praised be the lips of the night
For their murmurous message of rest,
For their lullaby, motherly sweet.
Praised be the dreams of delight,
While tired life is asleep in love's nest,
And in harmony tender and blest
Heaven's calm and earth's loveliest meet.

Britain's Heavy Income Tax.

The British income tax is not only the heaviest, but the hardest, most inquisitorial in the world. The three-year average having been done away, a man now is assessed on his profits or gains during the year of assessment. The death duties are a fearful burden on all classes. Since they were imposed, in 1894, they have yielded over £220,000,000. Many landed estates have paid twice or three times within five or six years, with the result that they are utterly crippled. Fine houses have gone to ruin and hundreds of agricultural laborers have been thrown out of employment. For a so-called free-trade country, the duties are very high.—[Cassell's Journal.

IMPORTANCE OF GOOD STATE

By J. T. Moriarty.

The bills now pending before the Legislature Sacramento, relating to the issuance of the sum of $18,000,000 for building a improved country roads the full length of and connecting all the more important centers of our great commonwealth, are subject of vast moment to our people.

Although public rural highways have use ever since the most ancient times, constitute a part, and that, too, an of our existing system of transportation.

Of these roads, improved and unimproved, have in California alone nearly 60,000 miles in the United States, as a whole, we have 2,250,000 miles.

Of our present-day means of transportation taken all in all in their various forms, safely affirmed, they are a more important in our progress along the numerous lines nineteenth century development than any other, physical agencies combined.

Strong and sweeping as this statement seem, its soundness will become apparent light of a few general reflections.

Of what use would it be to the farmer prove his land, grade his live stock or crops, were he without adequate means portation for getting his products to

Of what avail would it be to unearth deposits, to bring forth from their beds our ores of iron, lead and other metals, out our marble, granite and other stone native beds, or to convert the trees of ests into lumber where they stand if, transportation facilities, they could not from the localities where found?

Of what advantage would it be to and mills and factories if there were means of transportation for supplying the raw materials they require for the of finished products?

What could commerce do in the means of transportation for the carriage sengers, wares and merchandise from place?

The truth of the matter is, that several means of transportation stroyed, civilization, as we now have it, come to a standstill and mankind back into a state of savagery and

In 1904 our Federal government very instructive pamphlet bearing ject of public country roads. This there is, as a general rule, an relation between improved country value of farm lands. A few fact will be here given.

In Mississippi where one-half of these roads was improved, the farm lands at that time was $15.94 Indiana where 35 per cent. of the proved, the average value was $54.

In Arkansas where seven-tenths of of the roads was improved, the the land was $16.67 per acre; in per cent. of the roads was improved, value was $57.73 per acre.

In Texas where 1 3-4 per cent of the improved, the average value of land per acre, while here in California with of our roads improved, the average $28.29 per acre.

Among the many grounds upon dom of providing our State, as a ample system of improved country vindicated, are the following:

1. Such improved roads add much to and attractiveness of the sections wherein they are found.

2. They not only make travel and them more comfortable, but less expensive.

3. They make the regions where more inviting to tourists, homeseekers talists, looking for profitable which reason, they are of especial fornia, the most charming of all Territories, for tourists and

4. They add materially to land been called.

In proportion, therefore, as we and improve our country roads, suing a policy that will go far California to proudly take and rightful place to which she ought of the brightest and most beautiful in the magnificent "Constellation of

La Grecque Tailored Undermuslins

To any woman who has ever worn these high-class undergarments detailed description is unnecessary, so far superior are they to commonplace muslinwear:

La Grecque garments are made in sunny, sanitary factories, each garment being an original design, thought out and executed in the factory; the employees are all highly-skilled operatives, earning good wages; no "sweat shop" methods enter into the construction of La Grecque undermuslins.

Our new shipments for spring have just arrived, and we invite your attention to an informal display of COMBINATION drawers and corset cover, or skirt and corset covers; $2.50 to $6.50. Knickerbocker combinations, also; gathered at the knee.

CORSET COVERS AND SKIRTS to make full length slips; $3.50 to $10.

LONG SKIRTS, fitted perfectly about the waist and hips; $2.50 to $9.00.

DRAWERS, also perfectly fitted; $1.25 to $4.00.

GOWNS, $2.50 to $8.00; a distinctive feature of these La Grecque gowns is their extra width and length, the extra deep hem at the foot, and the fact that if they are at all trimmed, the trimming is alike, front and back. We can hardly keep up with the demand for these splendid garments.

CORSET COVERS AND CHEMISES; corset covers, 75c and higher; chemises, $1.75 and higher.

Charming Spring Silks

Small wonder that the news has gone far and wide that we have the best silk showing of anybody this season! Firms compete with one another to have their goods entered here; shipments arrive almost daily from the style centers of the East. And these things not only make wide assortments, but, in many instances, lower prices than you'd otherwise have to pay:

NEW FOULARDS

Patterns in all late spring shadings	85c to $1.50
Black and white foulards	85c, $1 and $1.25

Messalines, 18 inches wide, for linings and skirts; all colors; regularly 75c, for, a yard	65c

Informal Opening of Spring Dress Goods

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week we shall hold an Informal Opening Exhibit in our Reception and Fitting Rooms, adjoining the Dress Goods Section, of sample suitings from a leading importing house:

A full line—four trunks full—of samples of men's wear and women's suitings will be shown; a line from which we select all of our finest imported goods. This is the first opportunity the public has ever had to select direct from such elegant materials.

If we have not in stock the particular pattern you fancy among these samples, we will, upon request, telegraph for it, and have it here for you within five days.

IMPORTED SUITINGS $2.50 AND HIGHER

These goods, now in our regular stocks, in half and full pieces, will be sold at $2.50 and higher a yard; or we will, during these opening days, make to measure, suits from any of them, for only $65, complete; identical in every way with those for which, ordinarily, we charge $75 to $90.

DOMESTIC SUITINGS $1.50 AND $1.75

Gray mixed suitings from famous American manufacturers, together with a complete line of real German suitings, 48 and 20 inches wide, will be sold at $1.50 and $1.75 a yard. Suits, complete, to measure from these, in newest styles, $45.00.

$7.50 Indian Blankets $3.75

Only by taking all the mill had of these pretty blankets can we offer them at so low a price:

Mohair wool blankets, 5.8x6.3; Indian designs and colorings; suitable for motoring robes, steamer rugs, lap robes, couch covers, invalid chair rugs, etc. Or you may use them for extra bedding, on account of their extra size. Really good values at $7.50, ours to sell for $3.75

Satin Striped Plisse Parisien

Perfect reproductions in a mercerized fabric of the material that all France is going wild about this season:

Thirty-two inch mercerized ginghams, showing stripes with a pattern between, which, when pleated into a skirt or whole dress, forms a charming effect through the movements of the wearer and the natural flare of the skirt. Shown in a Broadway window; inexpensive at, yard 50c

La Grecque Corsets

A woman's problem about now consists very largely of the dress question. And the heart of the dress question is the corset question.

What the large woman should wear, what the woman who wishes a hipless figure should wear, and what are the merits of all of the many makes we carry, will be gladly answered by any of our corsetieres, who are at your service to fit you properly, gracefully and comfortably. The La Grecque Tailored Corset is here in all sizes now; $3.50 to $15 a pair; you will like the ten-dollar model, for its long, slender, graceful lines.

Artistic New Buckles for Your Belt

Yes, spring assortments are here now in all their beauty; particularly attractive styles from the famous Apollo Shops, in New York:

Old Roman and antique styles have the preference, seemingly; old coins, odd stones and quaint designs, all encrusted with copper-rust effect; set with corals, amethysts, jade, topaz and like odd stones; or plain, from hammered brass; dozens and dozens of odd and handsome designs, at 75c, $1, $1.25, $1.50 and $2.00 each.

The new narrow gold beltings to go with the above, are sold at 75c a length.

Ostermoor Mattresses $18.50

REGULAR PRICE $30.00

This is the last chance this year for you to take advantage of the makers' offer of genuine thirty-dollar Ostermoor Mattresses for $18.50. For we can get no more to sell at this price after this present shipment is exhausted:

Soft, luxurious, round corner, 5-inch inseamed French roll edge border, covered with beautiful fancy art twill ticking (blue, pink, tan or light green); weight sixty pounds; full size; in one or two parts, as desired; regular price $30.00. Special price.... $18.50

Cream Serge Skirts $10.00

VALUES $12.50 TO $28.50

A reason, of course, for so drastic a price-cut. It is this—with all the care in the world, these light colored pure cream and cream with black stripe serges will become soiled:

We cannot offer them as perfect, so we dispose of them in another manner, and give you the benefit of an extraordinary bargain, indeed: Pleated styles in plain cream serges, and in serge with hairline stripes or dainty checks of black and blue; a good size range; and skirts well worth their original prices of $12.50 to $28.50; specially priced at.... $10.00

New lingerie dresses are here for as little as $7.50; others up to $87.50 and higher; beauties, every one of them.

On Tuesday, a sale of Oriental Pongees; wait for details.

Kayser Silk Hose

Made by the people who make the world-famous Kayser Silk Gloves, and in much the same fashion—the heels and toes being double tipped for extra wear:

Shown in black silk only, with wide garter tops; all silk, or silk with cotton foot; no better silk stocking made.

March Housefurnishings Sale

Everywhere you turn is something you want, something unusually good and at a price astonishingly low. For this is our annual March Sale of House Furnishings, and we propose to make one worthy the name:

Tapestry carpet and border; made, laid and lined, at these reduced prices:

SOX BLANKED BY CHAMPIONS.

Howard Cracks Out the First Homer of the Season.

Visitors Win Easy Morning Game at Vernon.

Chicago, 5; Los Angeles, 3. Morning game.

Los Angeles, 6; Chicago, 0. Afternoon game.

Another fierce storm broke loose in Chicago late yesterday afternoon and every man that met any other man or woman walking up or down State street began to apologize about the weather and wasn't it strange how these freezing "spells" came along without any warning, when the day had opened up so warm and bracing and it was odd, too, for we have not had any such blizzards for years.

And all this kind of talk, simply because the White Sox Yannigans were not only badly frazzled by the Los Angeles team but Chicagoed, just to show some of the effete easterners that there are others. Of course, the Chicago papers today will be filled with the old, old stories of "not trying," "lobbin' them ove-r" "taking no chances," "joke umpiring" and all the convenient things we never think of until we lose, but the truth is that the hitless wonders couldn't hit.

It might be stated they couldn't in the awfternoon and before luncheon they did not need to, for the heavers that Dillon stuck in tried to see how close they could get the ball to the plate without going over it and the Sox had all they could do to keep from making enough runs to do them until they get back here next winter.

There were two games, the first one in the morning out at the new Vernon Park and the second in the afternoon at the Chutes and one balanced the other. The errors the locals made in the morning, the Sox duplicated in the afternoon while the crowd of about 200 at the Vernon Park developed into a mob of over 4500 at the Chutes grounds in the afternoon. On the whole the day must have been satisfactory to all concerned except that the Sox will not forget that they were shut out by a minor team. This kind of stuff always hurts the big bushers.

The feature of the day was the fine pitching of Tozer and Hosp of the locals in the afternoon, only one of the Sox reaching third base and that was in the eighth inning. None of them reached second base until after two were out in the seventh inning and their only chance to score was in the eighth inning, with two out and three on bases.

It was duck soup for the locals and they never won an easier game. The Sox stuck in Miller to heave and he did good work for four innings, but was taken out to give Altrock a chance. Nick had his troubles in the four innings he pitched, but the locals not only slapped him all over the lot but some of the Sox got out their rubber boots and slipped them on as soon as they saw Nick get into the game. Howard cracked him for two doubles; Dalton dropped a fly and Shaw lost a missed third strike and allowed a low throw by Zeider to get away from him. This was not all, for Nick passed two men. One of these was Delmas in the sixth inning and when Nick tried to catch Dell off first, Beall went to sleep and held the ball long enough for Howard to steal to the plate from third.

It was an interesting game for the fans, for they not only saw the locals wallop the Sox but witnessed some very pretty ball at times and at others, some punkiness.

In the afternoon Miller started off like a winner, but in the second inning, with two out, Delmas singled to center and stole second, advanced to third on Bush Thompson's grounder to Zeider, which was booted on a hard chance, and scored when Orendorff hit a Texas leaguer back of second base. The Miller then tightened up and held the locals safely until he retired at the end of the fourth inning.

Altrock entered the game in the last half of the fifth inning, greeted by the applause of the fans. He got through the fifth inning all right, but went wrong in the sixth. Howard opened this with a scratch double back of second base and ran to third on Smith's infield out. Then Delmas was passed and Nick tried to catch him off first but failed. Bader held the ball and Howard stole home with the first run. This seemed to rattle Nick and he went to the bad in the seventh, for some extra runs that were not needed.

Daley opened the seventh with a slow grounder to Altrock that bounced between Nick's legs in some strange way. Ellis followed with a two-horse swat to center. Then Dillon struck out but Shaw dropped the third strike and the ball rolled behind him and in between the umpire's feet. Shaw losing it long enough for Dillon to reach first. Howard then laced out a hard double to left, scoring Daley and Ellis. Smith hit a grounder to Zeider, who threw the ball low to Shaw at the plate to catch Dillon, but Shaw let the ball get away and Dillon and Howard scored. This was all, but it was a sufficiency.

Tozer heaved four innings and then gave way to Hosp, who was at his best and pitching shut-out ball, the Sox never had a chance.

JOKE MORNING GAME.

The morning game at Vernon was very much of a joke and the Sox made a beautiful picnic of it. Lang and White heaved for them and pitched good ball, although Howard got both a double and a home run off White, the homer coming in the eighth over the left fence.

Dillon put in a boy named Cowley of Seattle to start the game and he did fairly well for five innings, but was taken out in the fifth. In the third errors by Smith and Orendorff allowed one run to score. In the fourth, Cowley walked three men and was hit for a sacrifice and yet there were no runs on account of a fast double play, Cowley to Orendorff to Dillon. In the fifth he walked the first two men and another double play prevented a run.

Pat Phillips got into the game in the sixth and lost it in the seventh, when he soaked two men with the ball, walked one, was hit for three singles and had a wild pitch. In the ninth he walked four and was touched for two singles and a sacrifice. The features of this game, which about 200 fans attended, was the hitting and fielding of Howard; the good pitching of Cowles and a fine running catch by Ellis. The game was too one-sided to be of much interest.

Thompson, the new right fielder of the Los Angeles team, made his appearance in both games, but did not show anything. The scores:

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—The Chicago White Sox team, No. 1, divided honors with the Coast League players in a double-header today, letting the Oakland contingent out at the little end of a 11 to 4 score in the morning, and being trimmed themselves by San Francisco in the afternoon, 5 to 3. Heavy hitting was the order in both games.

In the morning the visitors had it all their own way and gathered fourteen base hits off four Oakland pitchers, one swat being a four-sacker by Cravath.

In the afternoon it was a different story. Joe Corbett opened the ball for San Francisco, and in the five innings he worked the Chicagoans plucked only one hit off his offerings.

Sutor was on the firing line for the Sox and had things working fine against his former team mates until Ping Bodie leaned against an elusive shoot so hard that it went out of the lot, scoring two runs. Scott relieved the Texan in the fifth, but the bombardment continued until the locals had piled up five runs.

The big grandstand and the bleachers were crowded to the limit and several hundred fans held an overflow meeting around the far sides of the field. The attendance was close to 10,000. Score:

Minor Games.

The Pico Heights baseball team won from the Thistles in the first game of a double-header at Joy Park yesterday afternoon, by a score of 3 to 0. Umpire Taylor awarded the second contest between the Thistles and the Los Angeles Giants to the Giants in the fourth inning, when the Thistles refused to play after one of the players had been ruled off the field.

The Giants then played the Pico Heights team and won by a score of 13 to 9. Heavy batting was done by both teams, but the hard wind made fielding difficult.

The Hamburger baseball team defeated the Euclid-avenue nine yesterday afternoon at the Euclid-avenue grounds by a score of 2 to 1. The battery for Hamburgers were Dixon and Best and for Euclids, Raleigh and Irvine.

The baseball team of the Los Angeles Brick Company defeated the San Gabriel squad yesterday afternoon at San Gabriel, by a score of 2 to 0. The manager of the brick company's team is anxious to meet the White City baseball team.

Gardena defeated the Downey baseball team yesterday afternoon at Downey in the Southern State League, by a score of 2 to 0. The battery for the winners were Coots and Simms and for the losers, Poe and Duewesse.

The Sunbright Babes defeated the Covina ball team yesterday afternoon at Covina, by a score of 10 to 5. The visitors gained a lead of six runs in the first two innings. Ferraris pitched for the Babes and was also good at batting.

The Rivera baseball team won from the Redondo nine at Redondo by a score of 13 to 6. Newton pitched an excellent game for the winners, striking out eight men and allowing three hits. Good batting was done by Phillips, Nagle and Pendleton, a three-bagger being hit by Phillips.

The Dyas-Clines defeated Huntington Park yesterday afternoon on the Huntington Park diamond, by a score of 8 to 0. Phillips pitched good ball for Huntington Park, and also did some good hitting. Duarte and Obioles showed excellent work for the victors.

The Maiers defeated McCormick's All Stars in a one-sided game of baseball yesterday afternoon at South Side Athletic Park, by a score of 8 to 0. Frank Smith pitched an excellent game for the winners, and allowed but one hit. The Maiers are to play San Diego next Sunday at San Diego.

BUSHERS BEATEN.

SAN JOSE, March 7.—The Santa Clara College baseball team was defeated today by the San José State Leaguers. Stein was pounded for ten runs in the first inning. Friend hit a homer with the bases full. Final score, 17 to 6.

RIFLES BEAT BISBEE TEAM.

Local Marksmen Victorious by Seventeen Points.

Good Scores Impossible, Owing to Strong Wind.

Return Shoot May Be Arranged in April.

The Southern California Rifles defeated the Bisbee Rifle Club in a telegraphic match yesterday by a margin of seventeen points, the totals being 713 for the Californians to 696 for the Arizona experts.

C. S. Backus of the California organization, made the highest score of the day on either team, leading with a total of 128, including the fine string of 49 at 500 yards, the latter being the highest score yet made on the range at that distance.

The teams were composed of six men each, shooting strings of ten shots per man at 200, 300 and 500 yards, for a total possible of 150, and a possible team total of 900. Both teams used the new U. S. Springfield rifle, and nearly all the local men fired cartridges with full load; the exceptions being Backus with U. S. cartridges, and Wotkyns, who used a Winchester N. R. A. military rifle and hand-loaded Krag shells with the army bullet. Wotkyns holds

WISE TALK
By The "Office Boy"

A section boss, having been rimanded for using too many words in telegraphing repair wrecks, etc., sent the following: "No. 2 bust a flue. What's Donahue." New ideas are the make big successes. It is man who can anticipate wants or create some new mand that wins a fortune. you have an idea, don't be afraid to try it out. A salesman in a cash register house once called on a particularly obdurate merchant with the hope of convincing him in purchasing a register. The merchant asserted positively that he had no need for a cash register in his store because his clerks made no mistakes. Of that he was sure. The salesman did not contradict him, but making an excuse, left the merchant's desk and by a little maneuvering, managed to get one of the lead pencils of every clerk in the store. He returned this pencil to the merchant and proved to him by the fact that the point on each pencil was worn half away that the clerks did make mistakes and made them every day. The argument was too strong for the merchant, who purchased a register. The idea was considered such a strong selling point by the cash register company that it was incorporated in their selling manual, and the salesman, who originated it, was substantially rewarded. If you think a good thought, take account for your firm, for yourself, and make it your business to think that kind of thoughts. Ideas are not as elusive as you may imagine. You have to dig out a new idea every day in order to entertain your customers, you posted on the right kind of wear. But after all, I guess the press in one word the result of all my little stories and jokes—bad poetry and honest—is about the best goods to the smallest price sold anywhere. That word is "Silverwoods." Either store.

TO CONTINUE GREAT WORK.

...servation Committee Is Not to Die.

...Gov. Pardee Is Authority for Statement.

...Declaration Comes After Seeing President.

[DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
...SHINGTON, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The National Conservation Committee will not die. We don't wish to quote any one, but we are authorized to say that the good work will go on."

...announcement was made by ex-Governor Pardee of California yesterday afternoon, following a conference in the President's office. It was the first official word he had made with his associates, the first being fruitless on the occasion of the great rush of handshakers in the President's office.

...Immediately after the conference to Pardee, the committee, of which he is chairman, is composed of Senator Dupont, Illinois; Wilson, Kentucky; Gallinger, New Hampshire, Senator Milton, Florida; Nelson, Minnesota, and Warner, Missouri, and Senator Kavanaugh, Missouri. When the President passed the Sundry Civil Bill he was pitched on an amendment prohibiting payment of any salaries to various commissioners created by Roosevelt under an executive order. It left the National Conservation Commission, of which Gifford Pinchot was chief, in a state of suspension. Pinchot, by his energy, it seemed powerless to continue its work. The thirty-odd governors who had enthusiastically accepted the President's invitation to cooperate with the National Conservation Commission, and who established commissions in their respective States, "to cooperate with the National Commission," discovered that they had misunderstood that body. Pardee assured Pardee and his associates that he was in favor of conservation work. Members of the White House have said that if Congress does not approve of the Conservation Commission it is because no money has ever been appropriated for its members or the work they have done.

...TOUCH TIME WASTED.
...NIGHT LAWMAKING.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
...SHINGTON, March 7.—When the Senate meets March 15 to consider tariff matters, there will be no conversational restrictions upon the nature of the business that may be transacted. It is generally conceded that at least six months will be required for the consideration of the schedules involved in this legislation.

...Senator himself will not receive the bill for some weeks, as the Committee on Ways and Means will require considerable time to report the measure. During this period the Senate will have nothing to do in respect to the tariff, even after the bill leaves the House it will be in the hands of the Committee on Finance for some time. When the Senate actually gets possession of it. Then will begin a struggle by the House until the Senate amendments can be known, and a conference appointed to bring about an agreement between them. This will result in each House having to remain in session, with nothing to do in relation to the tariff, for a number of months. Three days is the limit of a recess that may be taken by either body. Senators, therefore, are considering the advisability of entering upon any extra session. The advocates of currency reform banks have talked of the necessity of such a policy being adopted, but since they became aware that they would have to secure legislation from Congress many earnest advocates of the date for the inauguration of March 4. Action on this question will be taken.

...Chamber of Commerce for New Mexico and Arizona were greatly disappointed that no progress could be made toward the enactment of an enabling act during the late session, and are planning to press over any proposition which will then come up for consideration until the regular session of Congress. They fear the mass of legislation which will then come up will not permit their claims.

...Director of the census is considering some action to hasten the enumeration of the population, which might be delayed until next winter, but some believe that a special session will give an advantage by enabling the country to dispose of it. The latter opinion is sure to bring a number of bills in both houses.

...SOMEN EAGER.
...COMMITTEE JOBS.
...PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
...SHINGTON, March 7.—As the Ways and Means Committee has the important duty of reporting the new tariff bill, there is keen rivalry among members of the House for appointments to fill the vacancy in the Republican membership made by the retirement of Congressman Bonynge, of Colorado, whose probability be filled by a Senator from western State. Representatives Lowell of Utah, and Representative Burke and Martin of South Dakota, and Representative Humphrey of Washington, have been mentioned.

...Burton Harrison of New York, having served only one term, is most prominently mentioned to fill the vacancy in the membership of the committee caused by the retirement of Representative Cockran of New York. It is understood that Sereno E. Payne, chairman of the committee, favors Harrison's appointment, but Representative Sulzer, leader, declares that the committee appointments will be left entirely to the action on the rules committee.

...Speaker will announce the committee on committee appointments," he said, "on the question of the tariff, but I cannot say anything about the committee appointments."

...Representative Sulzer of New York is a prominent candidate for one of these places.

...DEBTS DECREASE.
...NEARLY MILLIONS.
...PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
...SHINGTON, March 7.—In January there was a falling off of about $4,000,000 in the total value in the public debt as compared with the corresponding month of last year, while for the first seven months of the present fiscal year, which began with January, the decrease amounted to $8,631,719,944, as compared with the corresponding seven months of the previous fiscal year, when the total was $137,000,000. The principal decrease is found in raw cotton. The average value of cotton exported in January, 1908, was 11.7 per pound, and in January, 1909, 9.4 per pound.

Another cause of the decline is the falling off in the quantity of corn, wheat and flour exported.

GOES BACK TO OLD WAY.

New President Immediately Unsimplifies Simplified Spelling.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WASHINGTON, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] T-H-R-O-U-G-H spells through the next four years. T-h-r-u does not spell anything. T-h-r-e-w o-u-t spells what President Taft has done to Mr. Roosevelt's reorganization of Mr. Webster's dictionary as simplified spelling.

Simplified spelling is to exist no more in White House correspondence except as an antique and a curiosity. There is to be no more puzzling over sonorous sounds, and President Taft's messages to Congress and his other correspondence will contain words "spelled out" just as Mr. Taft spelled out his his words when he wrote essays at Yale.

President Taft practically began this change in his inaugural address. Advance copies of the document showed that there were none of the peculiarly spelled words so characteristic of Mr. Roosevelt's addresses.

Axe now spells what Mr. Taft will use on the heads of the Roosevelt office holders instead of "ax," while if President Taft should ever have occasion to use the word "kissed" in his official correspondence he will not spell it "kist."

REAL SABBATH.
PRESIDENT RESTS.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, March 7.—Simplicity characterized the first Sunday in the White House of the Taft family.

President Taft, accompanied by his brother, Charles P. Taft, walked to the Unitarian Church for morning services.

There was no attempt at demonstration, but the eagerness of the crowd to get a close view of the new President was not veiled.

After luncheon, the President rode horseback for twelve miles, with Gen. Edwards, his military aide; Capt. Archibald Butt and Mr. Roosevelt's orderly, McDermott. The route was over the newly-constructed Potomac speedway.

President Taft saw no callers who had business to transact during the day, thus beginning his administration with his heretofore enforced maxim, that Sunday should be a day of rest.

AUTOS FOR PRESIDENT.
CARRIAGES OUT OF DATE.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, March 7.—No longer will the terms "the President's carriage," and "the President's driver" be in vogue, for with the new administration come the terms "the President's automobile," and the "President's chauffeur."

Automobiles will be almost the exclusive method of locomotion of President Taft and his family. The White House automobiles will have the right of way throughout the District of Columbia, and will know no speed limit.

Two splendid new machines already have been purchased with $12,000 appropriated by Congress for this purpose, and Mr. Taft has given them a thorough try-out. One is a big touring car with detachable top and painted in dark green. This will be most used by the President. The other is a limousine body painted black, and was purchased for the use of Mrs. Taft.

IN HITCHCOCK'S PLACE.
VICE-CHAIRMAN NAMED.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WASHINGTON, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The appointment of John Fremont Hill to be vice-chairman of the Republican National Committee, and who will take charge of the committee on the coming resignation of Chairman Frank H. Hitchcock, has been a mystery in Washington three days. Now the explanation can be made.

Mr. Hill formerly was a Governor of Maine and was an "original Taft man" in that State.

Mr. Hitchcock's idea was that Secretary William Hayward would continue in control of the committee until the next campaign. Mr. Hayward is a Hitchcock appointee.

Mr. Taft, however, when this proposition was made to him, insisted that Mr. Hitchcock's severance of relations with the National Committee on becoming a Cabinet officer, should be actual, and that a vice-chairman should be named who would have the real direction of the committee after Mr. Hitchcock resigned.

TRIES SUICIDE.
NAVAL OFFICER MAY DIE.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, March 7.—Lieutenant-Commander James H. Reid, U.S. N., leaped today from a second-story window of the Naval Hospital, and was, perhaps, fatally injured. Reid sent his nurse from the room for a glass of water. The attendant had hardly left the ward before the officer barricaded the door. Then, seizing a heavy oak table, he jammed it against the window sash, tearing it away. Reid took a running jump and dived headlong from the window.

TRADUCER OF SISTER SLAIN.

Young Italian Appeals to Unwritten Law.

Shoots Eloper on Refusal to Marry.

Tragedy Takes Place on a Chicago Street.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
CHICAGO, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Another case of the "unwritten law" with some variations, today resulted in the slaying of Frank Serino, an Italian, living at 163 Eighteenth street.

Serino was shot and killed by Michael Pacellani, 19 years old, near Sixteenth and Dearborn streets. Pacellani had just returned from New York, bringing with him Serino and his sister, Mrs. Josie Fresso, 16 years old, who had eloped to that city several weeks ago.

The two men and the young woman were on their way to Pacellani's home at 1905 Clark street. They had just arrived on the Michigan Central train from New York. Both men, it is said, had revolvers, although Pacellani had withdrawn the cartridges from Serino's revolver while the latter was sleeping on the train.

Near Sixteenth street young Pacellani turned to Serino and says he asked:

"Will you marry my sister if I get her a divorce from her husband?"

"No, I won't marry your sister," Serino is asserted to have said. "But I'll keep her, anyway."

According to Pacellani's story, Serino reached for his revolver, and not knowing whether the shells in it had been replaced, Pacellani drew his revolver and fired. Serino fell dead and his slayer fled to the yards of the Erie Railroad, where he was arrested a few minutes later by Special Agent C. D. Shields. He was taken to the Twenty-second-street police station and his sister was arrested later by Lieut. Enright and locked up in the Harrison-street annex.

"He ruined my sister's life and I killed him," said Pacella.

"I would do it again if I had the chance. I gave him every opportunity, but he refused to do the right thing."

"It is a clear case of the unwritten law," said Attorney Charles E. Erbstein, who was retained by Pacellani's friends to defend the slayer.

"The boy did everything possible to bring about a peaceable arrangement of the trouble and then when he saw that Serino did not intend to repair the wrong done Mrs. Fresso, he killed him."

The Italian woman spent the night at the Harrison-street annex, moaning and crying and her condition was such that Inspector Wheeler probably will have her removed tomorrow to the County Hospital.

DEATH FOR CANNIBALS.
CUBAN LAWYER DEMANDS IT.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
HAVANA, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Considerable public interest is being shown in the trial of the "Brujos" or negro sect which last summer kidnaped and killed a three-year-old girl named Luisa, and used the body with cannibal rites as a remedy for a sick negro woman.

The prosecuting attorney and lawyers for the defense ended their work yesterday, and the tribunal is expected to pass sentence shortly. The prosecuting attorney, Dr. Gespedes, demanded a death sentence for four negroes, Tim Marin, Tidel Valladares, Iren Rodriguez and Demetrio Valladrex, the latter being the high priest of the sect. Life imprisonment was asked for three negro women, and 17 years for three more. The Valladares family has practiced the "Brujo" rites for years, and it is said that the number of their victims can never be known.

The prosecuting attorney paid a tribute to two newspaper men who discovered and exposed the awful crime. He added that these dregs of the Cuban people are formed of the worst elements of the nego, yellow and white races. The "Brujo" practices are predominant among the lower people, he said, and it is necessary to exterminate them like the yellow fever. It is believed the tribunal will grant the attorney's request.

FUGITIVE NABBED.
WANTED ON MANY COUNTS.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Emil Jordan, said to be wanted in New York on several charges, including the murder of a policeman, jail breaking on Ellis Island, forgery and bringing young women from France in violation of the immigration laws, was captured here last night by secret service officers and local detectives.

Jordan, whom the police declare to be a dangerous man, was arrested while sitting at a table in a small restaurant. The Federal authorities have been searching for him for six months. He will leave for New York Tuesday in the custody of secret service men.

RAPIST CAUGHT.
INNOCENT NEGRO KILLED.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
GREENVILLE (Tex.) March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Anderson Ellis, the negro charged with attempting to rape Mrs. Arthur McKinney, near Rockwall, was caught by Constables Sid Arnold and George Dugan of this county, sixteen miles southwest of Greenville, this morning. The negro was wounded in the struggle. Another posse near Rockwall killed an innocent negro by riddling him with bullets. The negro who was killed fired on the posse, which answered in kind with fatal results to the negro.

EXPERIMENT COSTLY.
SACRAMENTO, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hop picking by machinery is a failure. Last season's experience by the Horst Bros. and experiments since made in attempts to overcome defects in the machines cost the firm $40,000, which is a dead loss. The machines have been abandoned. All hops grown in the Sacramento Valley will be picked by hand henceforth, as no one else is likely to take up the machine experiments where the Horsts left off.

The machines wasted as many hops as they picked and were not as economical of operation as expected. Had the expectations been realized, hop growing would have again become profitable and regained its former importance as one of California's leading industries, but further reductions of acreage are now expected. Some hop ranches are being planted to sugar beets, others to alfalfa and garden truck. Hop land is valuable for many other purposes and a change of crop may prove highly beneficial to owners of land, and the communities in the vicinity of the fields.

At the Churches Yesterday.

Our Strenuous Ex-President.

AT THE First Congregational Church last night, Rev. William Horace Day spoke from the text: Samuel x, 12: "Be of good courage and let us play the man for our people."

"A remarkable character has just stepped from the White House to private life," said he in the course of his address. "Never has a Chief Magistrate displayed such remarkable capacity for the strenuous life. While I believe that President Taft is right, after the irritation of the last few months has passed we shall see Roosevelt to be one of the greatest of our leaders and that he stands with Washington and Lincoln. I would like to study his hold upon the people as a means of taking stock of the ideals which are at the basis of American life. This unique President will serve as a mirror of the national mind.

"He has caught the popular fancy because the people believe in the supremacy of law. Just before he became President he said, 'The first essential of civilization is law.' He accepted the place at the head of the Police Commission of New York because he saw that the storm center for the settlement of law enforcement in his State was in the corrupted police department. Tammany had secured laws which were drastic enough and used them as a weapon for blackmailing any who would not pay for immunity from law. As one writer said: 'Roosevelt has taken the astonishing ground that he will observe his oath of office and respect the law.'

"In repeated speeches and in his acts he urged 'the biggest corporation like the humblest citizen must be held to strict compliance with the will of the people expressed in the fundamental law of the land, and when a union of printers in government employ at Washington tried to compel the discharge of a man who was not a member, he reinstated him and said, 'no rules of the union can be permitted to override the laws of the United States.' Make union or trust stand for efficiency and each will stand.

"I am not here concerned for your personal opinion of Theodore Roosevelt. I am presenting the fact that the people responded to his appeal to faith in triumphant righteousness. He became a national figure in a time when a great political leader—upright himself—said 'the purification of politics is an iridescent dream. The decalogue and the golden rule have no place in a political campaign.' This man came into power saying, 'By George, that is right, it must be done,' and wrongs under which Indiana had suffered for generations ceased. Repeatedly he acted as Napoleon's soldiers fought 'as if tomorrow was resurrection day.'

"Whether it has been the Panama Canal or the vast reclamation projects the name of the strenuous President will go down to history as one who incarnated the newly dawning national consciousness. He is possessed in the West because he was the first President to really see the West. All over this land are Governors, Mayors, State's Attorneys and officials of all grades who are following what they believe is his example in serving the people with honesty, common sense and an eye single to public duty.

"I believe the secret of his own courage has been in the fear of God."

Each in Their Sphere.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Shoaff, pastor of the Trinity M. E. Church South, delivered the second of his series of lectures yesterday, on the "Life and Times of Queen Esther." He said in part:

"Last Sunday evening we mingled amid the gay and festive scenes of the Shushan palace. The most brilliant woman in the throng was Vashti. The monarch in the midst of his drunken revelry orders Vashti to appear in his presence, who refuses to appear before him and his royal guests, who had turned the feast into a wild debauchery. Stung to anger by Vashti's refusal to appear before him, listening to the counsel of unwise as well as wicked advisors, the King made decrees of divorce—issued a royal commandment and had it inscribed among the laws of his kingdom, that 'every man should bear rule in his own house.' Thus this fair woman was set aside by the one who should have been the defender of her name and the protector of her character.

"In his waking thoughts and midnight dreams conscience haunted him for the cruel wrong committed against Vashti. Fair maidens from every part of the empire were brought before the King and among them Esther. The King made her his wife and crowned her Queen. As Esther, 'the Star,' she ascended to her lofty place and station, that in the providence of God, she might bestow blessings upon her beloved people and through them to the world. And now let us reduce the historic review of the evening to some practical account.

"We learn that the wine cup is the enemy of domestic peace and happiness. It transforms the affectionate husband into the unfeeling monster and turns home that should be the dearest place on earth, into a hell of horror. Proud, imperious ambition, instead of being a constructive, is a destructive force in life. Again let us remember, that conscience haunts the soul with the unrighteous deeds of the past. Time and again the King thought of Vashti and the law he had so cruelly written against her. Thus, conscience quickened by the bitter memories of the past planted his crown with thorns.

"Learn again that our providential stations in life means proportionate responsibility and a corresponding sphere of usefulness. Queen Esther was to be a power for God, with her fair hand she was to overthrow the plot to destroy her people. Remember this, your opportunity is your throne. Live for others, gladden the world with your smile. Fill your place in life in a consecrated ministry to others. Let us in the fear of God try to make the world better and brighter by our presence."

Diversified Beliefs.

In a sermon on "The Bible in the Light of Evolution," at the First Unitarian Church yesterday, Rev. E. Stanton Hodgin said:

"It is a common thing to hear people call themselves 'Bible Christians,' to assert that the religion they believe in is the religion of the Bible, and to declare that if people would only go to the Bible for their religion, all this strife and controversy and difference of opinion that is rending the world of religion would cease. They assume the Bible to be a book in which a single, simple, consistent, clear-cut system of religion is unfolded.

"As a matter of fact every sect in Christendom is composed of 'Bible Christians' in precisely this sense. The more earnestly people have believed the Bible to be the sole repository of religious knowledge, and the more jealously they have studied it to find the true religion, the more numerous the sects have become, the greater has been the number of beliefs adhered to, and the more bitter and violent they have been in their antagonisms to each other.

"The reason such a great variety of opposing beliefs results from conscientious Bible study is not so much due to the tendency of each leader to read into the Bible what he wishes to find there as to the fact that all these various beliefs actually do exist there. The Bible is a composite production. It is not a book of religious dogma, but a literature of religions. It covers a period of two thousand years of religious expansion, and during that time the Jews passed through almost ever phase of religious experience from the lowest and crudest form of polytheism to the high ethical monotheism of Jesus and the prophets, and all these various beliefs and experiences find expression in the literature that is contained in the Bible.

"The Hebrews were a people of almost unprecedented vitality and energy, who, for nearly two thousand years devoted themselves to the one purpose of developing and purifying their religion. The Bible is the record of their efforts and achievements. We can candidly say that ours is the religion of the Bible, not because we accept all or even the greater part of the various beliefs set worth in its pages, but because we find pervading it an intensity of conviction, a sincerity and earnestness of purpose, a candor and strength of expression, and above all a transcendent faith in the triumph of righteousness that stirs us to the utmost depths and commands our respect."

Overwork.

"Rest," was the theme at the First Presbyterian Church yesterday morning. The pastor, Rev. Dr. W. H. Hunter, in the course of his address said:

"Each is pressed with his own burdens and absorbed in his own work, and seldom surveys the burdens of the multitudes, but men, women and children everywhere are toiling and bearing burdens. It begins so early and lasts so long. There are some weary with overwork. Up to a certain point work is good and profitable, but some go, from choice or from pressure beyond their capacity or power and toil becomes burden. Overwork to brain or muscle will always prove loss. Some think they are overworked and are perpetually talking about it. In that case the tongue is probably the most overworked member. The difference between a machine and a man is that the former when overburdened will stop or break; the latter takes on more. Overwork comes from three things, first an overestimate of our needs. The real needs are few and simple. Civilization and enjoyment multiply our wants. Some cannot discriminate between real and fictitious wants. Society creates rivalry in dressing, eating, and living. Most people are slaves to the fashions and those are big enough fools to believe the statement, 'as well out of the world as out of the fashion.' If desire is created, it must be denied or satisfied. We generally think it must be satisfied and thousands drive themselves to distress, or bankruptcy or death in the attempt. Then some people do not rightly estimate their power. They estimate their capabilities as children do their stomachs and so they overload. It is not work, but overwork that kills.

"Again our multitudes of inventions tend to overwork us. You talk of labor saving machines, but people are as busy as ever. In an hour you do as much as you used to do in ten, but you do ten times as much and then more. We nerve ourselves to do so much, then strain this point and that, and grow breathless, weary, exausted and befool ourselves into the belief that we have so much to do that we have not time for religion. We feed our material desires, even to overloading and seem to think little of the criminality of starving our spiritual nature. Take Christ's yoke—learn of Him. Adopt His principles. You who are most worried and burdened, need Him most.

"A large part of the world's people are engaged with the little affairs—the drudgeries. They live in routine. Have no results of large proportions to stimulate them. Many women suffer from this condition of things. The daily round of duties in the home becomes monotonous. Some men labor away in obscure places with no prospect of promotion and sometimes there is little encouragement and appreciation. If we have proper regard for each other and for Him who is the Great Head of the family our service will have extracted from it much that is unpleasant. Love lightens the burden. Remember that all great leaders had humble beginning, and faithful training. Happy the man, the woman, when the day is over, who falls asleep listening to the sweet word of praise from Him who said 'I will give you rest.'"

Woman's Sermon.

Mrs. Carrie Crow, Rev. R. M. Kell and Rev. James Owen, known as the "Kentucky Evangelists," began the Lenten season of revival services yesterday at the Grand-avenue Pentecostal Church of the Nazarene. Mrs. Crow preached at the morning service on "For Me to Live is Christ," in part, she said:

"I like this thing of traveling west. It takes two engines to pull through. That's the kind of religion I have, a double-header. One engine is all right for awhile when you're on a smooth track and level grade, but when you come to a strong pull up hill and a sharp grade, it takes another engine to come through. The first blessing of regeneration is all right when you take a start for glory, but when you come to the hard places and it's up hill work, it takes the second blessing of entire sanctification to pull you through.

"Then you come to the tunnels. My, how dark it is; have to light the lamps and can't see a thing outside. Nothing but darkness all around, but a light inside. Oh, glory, that's it—a light inside. Who cares how many tunnels you have to go through if you have the light inside all aglow? We came through one short tunnel, just a short one, so the porter did not light the lamps, and my, how dark it was. Couldn't see a thing anywhere. But the train went right on through. No stops, and soon it was light again. That's it again. God lets you go into a dark place once in a while, but it always is a short while, and soon it's light again. When we got into the light again, after passing through the tunnel we had the same conductor and engineer as we had when we went in. That's so. God is the same in the dark places and going through tunnels, as when the road is open, and it's light all around."

At the afternoon service Rev. Owen preached on "Elijah, Prepared, Tested, Sustained and Crowned."

Ministry of Suffering.

As the culminating sermon in a series on "Healing," Rev. A. C. Smither preached last night at the First Christian Church on "The Ministry of Suffering." He said in part:

"Suffering has been the common heritage of the race, all men have felt its pangs. It has flamed from the body, the mind and the spirit. It can hardly be supposed that anything so universal is without a ministry. Pain is punitive. The law that whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap' is universal. A man who sins against his own nature, against his fellow man, against society and God, will invariably be punished. 'The soul that sinneth it shall die,' is a law of human nature, of society and of God. Man must be punished for his sin. There can be no government, human or divine that does not rest upon the punishment of the transgressor. Human life would be unsafe without this protection.

"Suffering is corrective. The underlying thought of punishment of society against the offender ought to be corrective rather than vindictive. It should be an effort to restrain from evil and to incite to the good. The modern theory of probation as practiced in many of our courts is based upon this humane principle and with a view of restraining the one who has made a mistake from erring again. Pain is a warning given the offender of danger ahead. It is the light put in our pathway to deter us from danger and destruction. The cough is a warning of possible tuberculosis. The pain in the lungs forewarns us of possible pneumonia. Pain resulting from immoralities gives warning of the inevitable consequence of wrongdoing. It is a kindness of God, a proof of His love for us, that He puts such warnings in our every day pathway."

MUST GO HUNGRY.

MAN WITH THE HOE IS MENACE.

MANY STOCKMEN PREDICT GREAT MEAT FAMINE.

Breaking Up Into Small Farms of the Erstwhile Cattle Ranches Declared Cause of the Present Rapidly Growing Shortage of Beef on the Hoof.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Numerous well-known cattlemen and live stock commission merchants are of the opinion that America is facing a meat famine because of the breaking up into farms of the great cattle ranges of the West. William E. Halsell of Oklahoma, one of the largest cattlemen in the Southwest, thinks the "man with the hoe" is a menace to the meat-eating millions and predicts dire calamities because of the settlement of great pasture lands in Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico. He says the farmers are plowing up the grass lands and cattlemen are being forced out of business. For this reason he predicts a meat famine.

According to John N. Jaynes of Jaynes Bros., Bovina, Tex., rated among the old-time cattlemen as the leading Panhandle cattle raisers, the doom of the ranchmen is sealed.

A. J. Gillespie, a live stock commission man of Kansas City for the past several years, who has probably held more cattle from the Southwest pasture than any other man, says: "Experience teaches me that a very large shortage will be felt during the next few years, but I do not anticipate a famine. The gradual falling off in cattle receipts each year indicates a severe strain upon the meat supply, and I would not be surprised to see a shortage each year amounting to from 200,000 to 300,000 head.

"Last year we received less cattle than the previous year by 224,000 head, and for the next five or six years the shortage will continue to increase."

Other prominent commission men believe as does Mr. Gillespie.

STRIKERS LACK FRIENDS.

Labor Unions in Manila Decline to Be Drawn Into Sympathetic Strike by Car Men.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MANILA, March 8.—The strike of the street car men in this city, which was declared March 4, has not spread beyond the railway operatives as yet, though there is still a possibility that other labor organizations will go out in sympathy.

The various labor unions of the city held a series of meetings on Sunday for the purpose of organizing an effective boycott against the street railway; but the general public continues to patronize the cars as freely as has been the case since the strike was begun.

There has been no disorder. Details of the city police, armed with shotguns, are placed aboard the cars at night, but have not been called upon to quell any riots.

Gov.-Gen. Smith has decided to remain in Manila in order to keep a close watch on the developments of the strike situation. The other members of the insular commission have gone to Gaguio, in the province of Benguet.

RIFT IN CHURCH WIDENS.

Split in Methodist Organization in Philippines Spreads—Leader in Schism Hard at Work.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MANILA, March 7.—Nicholas Zamora, the Filipino preacher who has caused a split in the Methodist Episcopal church in Manila, and planned the organization of the Evangelical Methodist church of the Philippines, surrendered his credentials today to the regular church and began the formation of his followers into an organized body.

He is followed by at least 1000 members of his former congregation. The extent of the schism in the established Methodist church is as yet undetermined, but it is evident that the majority of the Filipino members will remain loyal to the regular church.

The Presbyterian organization in the islands is not affected by the new movement, although it is reported the dissenting Methodists are trying to create a division in that church also.

SOLDIER NOT SOLON.

San Francisco Youth Prefers Army Life to That of Page in the Senate.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That life as the companion of enlisted men of the army is preferable to being a page in the United States Senate is the view taken by LeRoy Jones, 12 years old, who is held at the local house of detention. The boy told a policeman that his home was in California, and that his mother lived at No. 3874 Sacramento street, San Francisco. He came to Washington, he said, with the expectation of being appointed page in the Senate through Representative McLachlan. He was instructed, he said, to go to the home of his cousin, Louise C. Brennan, but before he reached her home he became acquainted with several soldiers, and told the officer that he wanted to go to Virginia with them. Miss Brennan identified the boy as her cousin.

INDIANS ROUTED.

RVERSIDE, March 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Sherman Institute baseball team met its first defeat this afternoon, when it lost to the Riverside team by a score of 3 to 2. The game was played at Evans Athletic Park, and all of the scores were made in the first inning.

FINANCIAL.

STILL UNFORMED IS SENTIMENT.

WALL STREET IN THE HANDS OF PROFESSIONALS.

Effect of Declaration of War by Steel Trust Is Passing Away and Traders Are Concerning Themselves Largely With Speculations Regarding Policy of President.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, March 7.—The irregular and uncertain movements of last week in the stock market were the reflection of the unformed speculative sentiment.

Dealings were small and largely in the hands of professional operators. The disturbing effect of throwing open the steel market seemed to have passed to some extent and conditions in that trade were reported to have cleared somewhat.

Price concessions in steel products were reported as still in progress, and the postponing of wage reductions by the Lackawanna Steel Company opened up that phase of the process of readjustments going on in the steel industry.

Developments in the copper trade have been hard to read, and the obscurity and confusion concerning them has served to keep alive the effect of steel trade developments.

Reports of some large sales of refined copper at prices above the recent average and of specifications promising larger transactions, were circulated in a demonstrative manner and market quotations were marked up in London and New York.

Criticism of the advance as manipulated and suspicion cast upon the reports of sales had the effect of causing sharp relapses in the prices of the copper industry. There followed then reports of a collapse in the copper market, and of open market conditions which met with counter criticism and threw the whole situation into confusion.

The labor outlook was clouded by the preparations making for the struggle in the bituminous trade incident to the termination of the wage agreement on March 31. The demands formulated on the one hand by the miners and the argument against the claims published by the operators represented the grounds of difference. An incident was the circulation of a rumor of the intention to shut down the anthracite mines on April 1, until a settlement with the miners should be secured.

The financial community professes to feel an assurance of more strict regard for legal restrictions on the part of the new President than has been the rule and of corresponding gain in orderly adaptation to prospective conditions. There is not lacking an undertone of questioning whether the new policy may not prove a more effective instrument against corporations than the old.

The financial community keeps an attentive eye upon the crop news and the questionable state of winter wheat crop is regarded as offering ground for caution in accepting these confident assumptions of the future.

Money rates have declined again and ready absorption of new bond issues is still reported.

In the ...grandmothers a spring ...always resorted to so as to ...after a winter's steady ...producing foods. These ...iron, phosphoric acid ...and similar drugs, all of which we are learning are contained in vegetables; in fact, as the animal kingdom draws its nourishment from the vegetable kingdom, so does the vegetable kingdom obtain its nourishment from the mineral kingdom.

The medicinal value of fruits and vegetables is therefore inestimable. So, if "in spring the young man's fancies turn to love," the thoughts of the feminine aspirant for lasting beauty must flit to the nearest vegetable patch. Among the early spring vegetables which are a valuable adjunct to the more substantial food, is spinach, which contains little starch, and only a suggestion of sugar, and has excellent refreshing qualities. It was of this vegetable that Gerard, the famous botanist and surgeon of the sixteenth century, said, "of all the pot herbs it maketh the greatest diversitie of meats and salads." Whereas, the raw spinach is cheap, it is always expensive in two things—labor and butter. It takes a good deal of time, water and patience to wash it clean, and no other vegetable requires so much butter if it is to be at its best. For variety's sake one may have spinach croquettes, spinach with cheese, and spinach pudding with mushrooms, as well as plain spinach on toast.

Salaries for Wives.

In the recent National Council of the Women of France, Mme. Landry created somewhat of a sensation when she advocated the paying of a specific salary to every wife, according to the earnings of her husband. She argued that, even if the wife did not perform the housework and was apparently a woman of ease, nevertheless in her social life she performed hard work which was none the less productive since her association brings her into touch with the social, political, financial and general world as a highly important and active participant who helps harmonize the whole, and makes conditions more supportable. "It is not," she said, "in my experience, only in the poorer classes that the women perform hard work. They also, by force of circumstances, are compelled to labor hard even in the prosperous classes. Take for example the case of the former Miss Alice Roosevelt, who in fifteen months attended 408 dinners, 271 receptions, 171 balls, 680 teas and in the same period, shook hands with 22,000 fellow-citizens and visited some 1643 of them. At the end of this period she had, small wonder, to take to her bed. Here you have the 'social' work of the well-to-do woman. If we admit a salary for women doctors, lawyers and others who perform economically-productive labor—why refuse it to the woman who is practically on the ground floor of civilization, and the prime source of the world's prolific possibilities?"

The latest touch for lingerie is to have cherry ribbon bows to fasten up the dainty garments instead of the old familiar baby blue and pale pink.

The half-fitted princess, by reason of its very simplicity, will probably prove more difficult to make and to "carry" than any of the late modes.

The sleeve that fits tightly at the wrist flares out over the hand and often has a little strap of elastic on the inside through which the thumb is slipped.

The men who have their dress shirts made in England are having the bosoms made to fasten with a single stud. This is apt to be an elaborately jeweled affair.

A novel piece of headgear is the cabriolet with one string only, and that a long one, capable of being wound around the neck and left to flow down the back.

The smartest colors for the early spring will be taupe, mole, smoke, vapor gray, sulphur, old gold, heliotrope, cinnamon brown, jade and the cashmere colors.

There has come about a fashion, not new but a revival, of fastening a tight, circular skirt under an ornamented design that runs left to right across the figure from waist to hem.

Tomson, the "Mystifier."
His "turn" has caused a wordy warfare between Sir Oliver Lodge and W. T. Stead as to whether Mrs. Tomson is a spiritualist or a trickster.

they made her disrobe and attire herself in clothes provided by Mrs. Stead. Furthermore, Mrs. Tomson submitted to careful examination by a medical man to see that she had not attached to herself any false pieces of anatomy in which she might conceal the flowers, birds and other things which she was expected to produce. After undergoing this rigid examination, the seance took place in a room which had been thoroughly examined by the committee of scientists.

Though Sir Oliver Dodge admitted that his scientific examination of the Tomsons previous to the seance was most satisfactory, he stated that his scrutiny of them immediately after the sitting did not comply with full scientific requirements. Mrs. Tomson objected to certain features of this subsequent investigation; and it is here that Sir Oliver Lodge seemed to detect a weakness in the Tomson link. From Stead's point of view, however, it makes no difference what took place afterward, if the preliminary examination by Sir Oliver Lodge was satisfactory.

"From my own point of view," said Stead to the writer, "I regard the Tomsons as among the greatest materializing mediums of the age. I am perfectly satisfied with the conditions which preceded their performance at my home. Mrs. Thompson produced an abundance of flowers under conditions which to my mind were impossible by any methods of trickery known to the juggling fraternity. Furthermore, I have seen Mrs. Tomson under conditions known to spiritualists as 'transfiguration' which, to me, were perfectly convincing. By transfiguration is meant that the medium takes on the appearance of some one in the spirit world known to one of the members of the group of investigators. I saw my own son who recently died, and I could not distinguish him from Mrs. Tomson.

"Sir Oliver Lodge," continued Stead, "implies in his correspondence to the newspapers, that, if there was no trickery among the guests who attended at my house on the occasion of the private Tomson seance, deception and fraud existed among the members of my family. It is scarcely necessary to reply to this. As to Sir Oliver Lodge's statement that the subsequent examination of Mrs. Tomson—after the seance—is unsatisfactory—all I have to say is that Mrs. Tomson gave me a good and sufficient reason for objecting to this, which anybody who knew it would admit as quite acceptable. However, what took place after the sitting does not invalidate the thorough examination which Sir Oliver Lodge himself carried out beforehand."

When the writer interviewed the Tomsons themselves at their apartments near Russell Square, no claim of spiritualistic phenomena was made by either of them. They are both, however, spiritualists in their private beliefs.

Doubtless, the story of the Tomsons is well known in the United States, where they have been exhibiting privately for years, but it may not be known that Mr. Tomson claims to be the son of a well-known English nobleman, while Mrs. Thomson is said to be closely connected with the royal family of France. The name they now appear under in public is assumed.

"Mrs. Tomson and I met under peculiar circumstances," said Mr. Tomson to the writer in giving a few details of his private life. "It was predicted by a famous medium that we would meet in just the way in which we did. It was also predicted that we would travel together all over the world, and would be the means of causing a great deal of public talk on the subject of spiritualism. That prediction has certainly come to pass. So far, no one has been able to solve the mystery which we present, though we have been subjected to tests—both by scientific men and various spiritualistic societies—which I would like to see other 'professionals' undergo."

Certainly the Tomsons have created a sensation in the English capital, especially since Sir Oliver Lodge and W. T. Stead have been "hammering" each other through the columns of the newspapers. They are getting $500 a week for their spiritualistic show at the Hippodrome.

TO BUILD GLASS HOUSES.

The Proper Kind of Sand Found. Houses Will Cost Little More Than Cement.

[New York Times:] A remarkable discovery has been made in reference to the qualities of the sand deposits along the Raccoon and Des Moines rivers near Des Moines. It has been learned by careful chemical analysis that the sand contains the proper ingredients to make it a good raw material for the manufacture of building glass. There are certain properties which the river sand contains which make it impossible to utilize it in the manufacture of plate glass, but for colored glass, the heavier forms of building glass, glass bottles of all descriptions, and other uses to which glass can be commercially placed, it is thought to be admirably adapted.

In connection with this use of the Des Moines River and Raccoon River sand, which is here in great abundance, a local architect, C. A. Eastman, has outlined a plan for the construction of buildings out of glass. He has already drawn plans for a number of such buildings. He finds that for a little more than the cost of cement buildings he can build entire business blocks out of steel and glass, insuring absolute fire protection, and give to the building a finish which cannot be obtained save in the most expensive marble and stone structures. The recent meeting of the American Association of Architects took up the question and considered it. A paper by the Des Moines architect heightened the discussion upon the use of rough glass as an outside building material.

GREAT BRAINS HAVE CHINESE.

PECULIAR CUSTOMS OF THE FLOWERY KINGDOM.

Antiquity of Chinese Surgery and Medicine the Development of Which Stopped Centuries Ago—Great Reliance Placed Upon Counter Irritation as a Cure for Disease.

[Shanghai Times:] The monthly meeting of the China Society was held at Caxton Hall, Westminster, last month, Sir Patrick Manson, K.C.M.G., F.R.S., presiding. The subject for consideration was "China in Its Medical Aspects," dealt with in an interesting lecture by James Cantlie, M.A., M.B., and illustrated by lantern slides.

The speaker prefaced his remarks by observing that he yielded to no one in his admiration of the Chinese. At the present day the Chinese race had the largest brain in the universe, because they had been educated for the last four or five thousand years, and they made good use of that brain. He looked upon them as the highest intellectual race on the face of the earth. Speaking of the characteristics of the Chinaman, Dr. Cantlie referred to the fact that his eye was said to be oblique. But the socket, he explained, was not oblique; the appearance was accounted for by the non-development of the bridge of the nose. Another peculiarity was that the Chinese had no bumps upon their foreheads like a European, which made them look quite boyish. The consequence was that the voice did not develop into the deep bass of the European's, owing to the absence of the air cells in the skull to reflect the sound. Then their limbs were hairless, quite different to the European's. The beard was very scaunty, and only a few old men tried to grow hairs on the upper lip.

Their bones were small; they had small feet and hands and were more beautifully limbed than the European—light, muscular and active. The speaker went on to talk of three eminent men in connection with Chinese surgery and medicine. The first, who lived 600 years before Christ, instituted the theory of the pulse. There were 451 varieties of the pulse in China and each one indicated something very important. This theory was, however, so mixed up with fantastical and mystical ideas and impossibilities that its value was of very little consequence. The lecturer showed that the methods adopted by a surgeon of about 300 A.D. were quite modern in many respects. He practiced surgery in the most bold way. For tumors of any kind he made incisions with a knife, opened the abdomen, removed the tumor, washed the organs with a medicinal liquid, sewed up the wound with a medicated thread and then covered it over with a permanent dressing so that air could not penetrate and left it alone until the flesh united. To-day we did exactly the same thing.

However, one day the surgeon in question treated a certain general, and to relieve a wound in the head inserted needles in the body. As that did not cure him, he proposed that he should trepan him. The general did not quite see the advantage of this, and thought the man a little dangerous, so he promptly beheaded him. These two, with one other surgeon, were made gods. There was no medical education in China, and the medical art was learned by apprenticeship. The medical literature was gigantic, beginning in the very earliest days of Chinese history. The speaker described the system in vogue today in China of puncturing, which consisted of sticking various needles on 367 different points of the body. The needles were introduced in various ways, according to directions always carefully laid down for whatever the pain was. They had to go a certain depth, upward or downward, obliquely or straight, and so on. The Chinese surgeon did nothing else today. There was no Chinese trained doctor who would dare to amputate a finger, surgery having gradually fallen away. The great idea was that of counter-irritation, which was carried out also by plasters and burning the skin.

Everything in Chinese medicine was specialized. There were outside and inside doctors, doctors for the eye, the ear, and everything, and it had been so for thousands of years. This was carried to such extreme limits that if a man went to an outside doctor with an arrow through the arm the doctor cut off the two projecting parts and said, "You must go to the inside doctor to remove the other." Pinching and bruising the body was a cure for all sorts of things. The lecturer exhibited a picture of the first students of the Hongkong College of Medicine, and spoke highly of the great usefulness of that institution. He referred to the heroic conduct of the Chinese students at the plague outbreak, when they went voluntarily in a body to work in the plague hospital. In commending the present efforts to raise the necessary funds to carry on the work he said that if necessary the hope government should be approached in regard to making a distinct grant. Before concluding Dr. Cantlie reminded his audience of the Chinese proverb that "medicine will cure those who are not fated to die."

The chairman concurred in the opinion that the Chinese were probably our superiors. He had an intense respect for them—not necessarily for their civilization or medicine, notions of sanitation or methods of finance, but for their conscientiousness. A Chinaman would do more for what he thought was right than the average European, and a nation starting with that sense of duty and that intellectual capacity was bound to come to the front. Although their notions of surgery and medicine were to us extremely ridiculous, yet that was our position a hundred years ago. Sir Patrick pointed out that the rudimentary idea of inoculation had been in the Chinese mind long before it dawned upon Europeans. As a proof of their cleverness he instanced one of his patients at Amoy, who was the possessor of an artificial nose, in which even the smudges were wonderfully represented.

Machine That Tells Sex.

An instrument for which remarkable qualities are claimed made its London appearance on Thursday. The inventor calls it the sexaphone. He declares that it is an infallible discoverer of sex. The invention is simply a pith ball suspended at the end of a piece of magnetized steel and copper wire with a wooden handle at the opposite end. When held above a male creature the pith ball rotates steadily. If placed above a female the disc swings backward and forward like a pendulum. It was tested successfully on rabbits, mice and other animals. The inventor, who is interested in poultry farming, states that the instrument tells the sex of eggs. Cynical opponents of woman suffrage argue that here is the most complete scientific proof of the incapacity of woman for the ballot. The instrument shows the all-round qualities of men, while the female nature merely vacillates.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

IN THE VALLEY.

SHADES COVER LEGAL LIGHT.

NOTED CORPORATION ATTORNEY DIES IN PASADENA.

Managers of Big Hotels Realize the Fullest of Their Hopes for Great Tourist Season—Houses of Worship Packed by Sunday Throngs—Interest in Annandale Contest.

Office of The Times, No. 26 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, March 8.—Frederick Seymour Winston, a corporation attorney of Chicago, died at "Hill Farm," on San Rafael Heights yesterday. His wife and a son attended him until his death, the trio coming to Pasadena nine weeks ago when the father sought to recover his fast-failing health, in this climate. In the opinion of physicians the move was made too late.

Mr. Winston was 52 years of age, a native of New York, and had been prominent in law circles in Chicago for many years. He leaves a large family.

PROSPERITY FOR HOTELS.

Managers of all three of the Pasadena hostelries, Hotel Green, Hotel Raymond and Hotel Maryland are realizing the fullest of their hopes for a great tourist season, and even more than that, reservations are still coming in to make sure of a large number here until late next month.

Manager Holmes of Hotel Green said yesterday that he was more than pleased with the large number of people coming to California this year, and the greatest problem of today is how to accommodate those who are coming, the new annex to the hotel and many of the larger suites of rooms being taken for the first time in several years.

THROOP TEAM BENEFITED.

Over fifty dollars was raised for the college baseball team of Throop Institute through the lectures given by Dr. James A. B. Scherer, president of the college, Friday night. The associated student body of Throop Institute has made an excellent record during the past year under the direction of President Cedric Brown, and this last achievement aids the finances considerably.

In addition to distributing sweaters among the members of the football team, it is expected that members of the baseball team will be given sweaters this year, and that a substantial balance will be left in the treasury.

This is the second year that the students of Throop have in a way governed themselves and managed their own finances, and the experiment seems to be working out excellently.

CROWDS AT CHURCHES.

Pasadena is known all over Southern California as the home of churches, but practically every house of worship in the city was packed yesterday morning and evening, the fine weather bringing out an exceptionally large throng.

At the First Congregational Church, Dr. Scherer of Throop Institute was the speaker and his sermon was a strong appeal for the larger spiritual growth of the human race, his text being, "Things Visible Pass Away, but Things Invisible are Eternal."

Dr. Scherer as a preacher is among the leading men of the city, for prior to his work as an educator he was an ordained minister. His delivery is pleasing and his advent to this city promises to be a step forward in educational work. On March 26 he will leave for Europe to be abroad until about midsummer. In the course of his trip he will visit the principal technical colleges and universities abroad and bring home many new ideas which may be used in connection with the work at Throop Institute.

WILL HEAR FACTS.

Horticulturists and those who own ranches in the vicinity of Pasadena are looking forward with special interest to the visit of the State agricultural and horticultural experts who are to come to Pasadena for a demonstration of the latest and most approved methods of several features of ranching. A special train will bear the visitors and each car is so fitted up that samples of the work talked of are on exhibition. The train will arrive at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday at the Southern Pacific Depot, and leave at 11:30 o'clock. President Wheeler of the University of California will be the chief speaker of the occasion although on the train are such well known experts as Prof. E. J. Wickson, director of the State experiment station; Prof. W. T. Clark, superintendent of the department of university extension in agriculture; Prof. G. W. Shaw of the reveal department, Prof. R. H. Laurghidge of the soils and fertilizer departments; Prof. E. W. Major of the department of animal husbandry; Prof. W. B. Herns, medical entomologist; Dr. C. M. Haing, of veterinary department; Prof. E. B. Babcock, department of pathology; Mrs. M. E. Sherman, viticulturist; Prof. R. E. Smith of the Southern California Pathological Laboratory at Whittier; H. J. Ramsey and T. E. Hunt of the Citrus Experiment Station at Riverside; J. B. Neff, of the Farmer Institute of Southern California; J. W. Jeffery, State Horticultural Commissioner; E. K. Carnes, superintendent of State insectary; E. M. Ehrhorn, deputy horticultural commissioner, and Frederick Maskew, fumigation expert.

INTEREST IN ANNANDALE.

Interest in financial and social circles today centers in the contest for the election of directors and later officers at Annandale Golf Club. As was explained in The Times last week the Pasadena members of the club are not in favor of the directorate of the club being made up of certain Pasadena and Los Angeles men and for this reason the following ticket has been presented and will be one of those in the field at the contest of ballots this afternoon: William F. Knight, E. N. Wright, J. H. Holmes, F. V. Rider, F. W. Hawks, B. F. Crawford, S. S. Hinds, J. J. Hunker, M. T. Allen, Lynn Helm, F. W. Washburn and H. E. Huntington. Proxies have been gathered and the Pasadenans will make an effort to have this ticket carried.

Other tickets in the field are said to compromise the Pasadena members in such a way that the guests of Pasadena men will be eliminated from the club, a feature against which the club was originally constructed.

The independent ticket is made up thus: William T. Allen, Lynn Helm, W. M. Garland, H. Jevne, George J. Denis, W. J. Washburn, Willis I. Morrison, J. Percy Wood, C. S. Byington, E. J. Sheehan, B. H. Wrenn and J. M. Marshall.

The first ticket nominated was as follows: M. T. Allen, Lynn H. Helm, George J. Denis, W. M. Garland, W. J. Washburn, William F. Knight, N. Murray Marshall, H. B. Wrenn, E. N. Wright, C. S. Byington and W. I. Morrison. Ballot boxes will be open from 12 to 4 o'clock.

MRS. WENTWORTH HONORED.

Yielding to the insistance of many of her friends and admirers Mrs. Marion Craig Wentworth, who captured a great audience at the Shakespeare Club House, Friday evening by her reading of "The Servant in the House," has consented to give "Votes for Women," Friday evening of this week, instead of "Adrianne" and "Barbe Bleue," as scheduled. The third reading of modern plays will be "The Sunken Bell," as was first intended, but those who have heard "Votes for Women" could not be contented to have it omitted from this series of readings. The power of Mrs. Wentworth's interpretation, her sincerity, which makes her reading resemble a personal message, and herself appear as a teacher of great moral truths, no less than her beauty, and artistic rendition have made a considerable impression upon the Pasadena public and from a well-filled auditorium Friday evening there will not be standing room at the remaining two readings of the series. Mrs. Wentworth was the guest of honor Sunday afternoon at an informal tea reception given by Miss Florence Fay at her home on San Rafael Heights when some fifty Pasadena and Los Angeles people had the pleasure of meeting this distinguished guest.

The women who are interested in the Tag Day entertainment which is being given for the benefit of the Emergency League have ordered five hundred scarlet and white pennants which will be used in decorating automobiles and carriages of every description, Saturday, March 13.

RACE WITH DEATH.

WILD RIDE ENDS IN WOMAN'S DELIRIUM.

MONROVIA, March 7.—One member seriously injured; she and three friends summoned to appear tomorrow morning before Recorder Evans for racing on the city streets and before Justice Holloway on a charge preferred by S.P.C.A. Officer De Biron, was the unhappy conclusion this morning of the riding tour of four residents of Glendora.

The party arrived here shortly before noon. Upon reaching Myrtle avenue the four whipped their mounts to a gallop, each striving to lead. At Lime avenue one horse swerved, slipped on the cement gutter and fell heavily, rolling on his rider, who later gave her name as Mrs. Swartz. She was unconscious when picked up and remained so for some time, and was delirious when taken to her home in Glendora this afternoon. She was attended by Dr. J. S. Allison who states that no bones were broken nor serious internal injury inflicted.

That Mrs. Swartz escaped death seems marvelous to those who saw the accident. The members of the party, two men and two ladies, were loath to disclose their identity, and it is believed they gave fictitious names.

TAXPAYERS PROTEST.

Formal Objection in Redondo to Payments Voted for Purchase of Sites.

REDONDO, March 7.—Chairman Anderson of the Citizens' League filed a taxpayers' protest Friday with City Treasurer George Cate against the payment of the warrant for $750 drawn and ordered paid as first payment on the purchase price of two lots in block 143 intended for municipal purposes. The protest is based on several grounds, all of which, except one, the right of the city to purchase real property for the purpose specified, rest upon what is regarded by the league as the irregular methods of transacting public business in vogue with the present city officials.

Treasurer Cate, upon the receipt of the protest, asked City Attorney Perry for an opinion as to the legality of the warrant. In reply, the latter merely gave it as his opinion that the warrant was legal and should be paid, without setting out the grounds for his opinion, as is customary. The difficulty remains unsettled, although Treasurer Cate expresses his willingness to pay the warrant on condition that he be furnished with an indemnity bond for his individual protection in the event the courts should decide against the validity of the warrant.

The balance of the purchase price of the lots—$800—is covered by a mortgage. Various opinions are expressed as to the price agreed upon, but the weight of opinion seems to be that the price is a conservative one.

The City Trustees are also being criticised for the passing of a recent ordinance fixing a standard for street improvement specifications. The ordinance is so lengthy that its publication under the charter provisions will be very expensive. In addition to this the Trustees ordered publication in pamphlet form at a large additional expense. It is charged that such an ordinance might not be useless in a city of the size of Los Angeles, or perhaps Pasadena, but for a municipality of the size of Redondo it is said to be useless.

BANNING.

BANNING, March 7.—The American Eucalyptus Company, preparing to set out 200 acres of eucalypti at Banning, has decided to plant the red gum variety for the greater part, although other kinds will be experimented with. The company will grow trees for timber, railroad ties and fuel, utilising every part of the tree.

Dr. L. P. Hendricks, a former Los Angeles dentist, has completed a home here.

Supervisor Charlton and Chief Ranger Jekin have just completed a general survey of the Angelus forest reserve in this locality with the view of extending the numerous forest trails so that deputy rangers may more effectively combat forest fires.

The pounding, roaring and blasting a short distance out of Banning is caused by a company at work getting out granite for paving purposes in Los Angeles.

HOLLYWOOD FIRE.

HOLLYWOOD, March 7.—Fire this afternoon partially destroyed the home of L. L. Ernst on South Willard avenue. The flames started in the kitchen and spread rapidly to the second floor. Mr. and Mrs. Ernst were away when the fire started but the firemen, with the assistance of the neighbors, succeeded in saving most of the house furnishings.

The automobile fire apparatus demonstrated its efficiency, making the run of nearly two miles, in four and one-half minutes. As the fire was some distance from the nearest plug there was some delay in getting water, but in spite of this fact the department did good work and succeeded in confining the flames to the upper part of the house. The loss, which is covered by insurance, is estimated at about $2000.

COVINA.

COVINA, March 7.—W. N. Elberger, representing the owners of three hotels in Lakewood, N. J., and Saratoga Springs, N. Y., was in Covina twice last week in the interest of his hotel syndicate. It is reported that the management is seriously contemplating the erection of several large tourist hotels in the San Gabriel Valley.

Rev. S. M. Martin, the evangelist, commenced a series of services at the Christian Church today. Preparations have been made to take care of a large crowd of people.

SEGREGATING.

PICKS PUPILS NOT OF CITY.

SANTA MONICA HEARS FROM LOS ANGELES AUTHORITIES.

Board of Education of Latter Starts Inquiry About Young People Living at Beach Places and Attending High and Polytechnic High Schools of the County Seat.

SANTA MONICA, March 7.—The Los Angeles Board of Education has sent to the school authorities of the beach districts the names of ten pupils who are enrolled at either the Los Angeles High or Polytechnic school who are said to be bona fide residents of the beach. The fact that the Los Angeles high schools are crowded beyond their capacity was responsible for the setting on foot of an inquiry.

The result was the discovery of pupils whose home ports are other than Los Angeles. The error is a technical one, since beach and city are so closely allied. There are families by the score that reside at the beach in the summer and in the city during the winter, and vice versa. They may be property owners at both points, and pass their time in the house which chances not to be rented.

With this condition of affairs it would naturally be difficult for them to always know where to send their children to school. Even the heads of families are at time so much without a home, while having two, that they sometimes register to vote at both city and beach.

RUSH FOR DERRICKS.

On the Wolfskill ranch, just east of Sawtelle three new oil derricks are being erected with as great haste as teams and men can assemble the requisite material. These new rigs will be within gunshot of the new gusher and the gas well. In a very few days the machinery will be on the ground and actual drilling will be in progress. These wells are on the 40-acre lease which calls for the location of at least one well on each five-acre tract.

This means the rapid creation of a new oil district, and the coining of a new name for it, since it is so far removed from the Salt Lake field as to make that title a misnomer. These wells are west of those recently developed at Beverly, and being on the Wolfskill ranch, it is probable that the new district will be known as the Wolfskill field. By many it is already thus known. The name is that of the pioneer Californian who owns more than 3000 acres in one piece just east of Sawtelle.

LOCALS WIN.

The baseball game here today between the Woodill-Hulse nine of Los Angeles and the Santa Monica Stars developed into a second-rate footrace. The score was 12 to 12 in favor of the Santa Monica sprinters.

Dr. S. A. Ellis has received a letter from his son, Harvey G., who is in the navy, stating that the young man has been promoted to the place of sight-setter of a 3-inch gun. The papers report that his ship has been hurriedly dispatched to the scene of the South American troubles.

LONG BEACH.

LANDS IN SEA AFTER FLIGHT.

Amateur Aeronaut Carried Out Over Ocean.

Falls in the Breakers and Parachute Sinks.

Harriman Ordinance Rouses Lively Opposition.

LONG BEACH, March 7.—Five thousand people today saw Jean Savage, an amateur aeronaut, ascend from the beach, in a fierce wind, which at times threatened to careen his balloon, and then watched him anxiously as he drifted up and south over the ocean. Up and up went the balloonist, seeking a favorable wind, which would send him shoreward, and he did not cut loose until he was 2500 feet high. The balloon, relieved of his weight, turned over and shot down into the sea, where it was picked up by a launch. Savage, in his efforts to land safely, swung his parachute at dangerous angles, and at times the spectators held their breath as a particularly strong breeze impelled him. He finally landed in the breakers, opposite Bixby Park, releasing his hold as he neared the water, on his parachute, which was caught in the tide and carried out to sea and sunk before a launch could reach it.

PROMISE OF LIVELY TIME.

There is great promise of a lively time in the City Council tomorrow when the ordinances introduced by Councilman Harriman, looking to a curtailment of several deputies and clerks in the various departments, come up for action.

Harriman was recently elected to fill a vacancy, and belonging to the opposition party of the majority, barely waited until he was fairly seated before he began an attack upon the claim made by the Mayor that the affairs of the city were being economically administered. He has introduced ordinances cutting off all deputies and clerks of the various departments, but provides that temporary help may be engaged by the Council for the departments, when needed. He also wants the offices of city electrician, plumbing inspector and building inspector abolished, and the duties taken by the members of the Board of Public Works, whose salaries are cut to $1000 a year each. Other ordinances provide for the abolition of the offices of Mayor's clerk and assistant City Attorney. The passage of these measures means a saving of $10,000 a year in salaries, which Harriman asserts are being illegally allowed by the Council and paid out by the Auditor. In support of this contention he quotes a section of the State law which says that salaries of city officials shall not increase during incumbency of the officials, and then produces Supreme Court decisions which hold that the appointment of deputies not provided by the charter constitutes a raise in salary of these offices, and is, therefore, illegal. In his contention Mr. Harriman has the support of at least two of the Council, a strong enough minority to make the situation exceedingly embarrassing for the majority, whose party will have another city campaign to handle in December.

WHO THREW IT?

Mrs. William Russ, while passing along Third street, near Locust, today, suddenly fell forward on her face and when picked up was unconscious. When she recovered she claimed that a missile of some sort struck her on the neck with such force and pain that she fainted. The police are investigating the matter.

As a preliminary for the improvement of all the park property on the bluff, the city has passed an ordinance removing all concessions on the bluff except that part of it immediately south of the depot pavilion. The Board of Public Works has been instructed to level the top of the bluff preparatory to seeding it and planting trees and flowers.

IN GOOD SHAPE.

Col. Wilhelm, U.S.A., assistant inspector-general, will be here tomorrow to conduct the annual inspection of Co. H., Seventh Regiment. Capt. Borden reports the company in good shape and has no fears of aught but a good report.

Prof. Willey announces that his band men are arriving rapidly from the East, and that he will begin free concerts at the Auditorium next Sunday. These will continue for at least nine months, after which it is expected the citizens will vote a special tax for the maintenance of a municipal band, which has for years been a feature of the beach, but has been supported by only the merchants and a few lovers of music. With a tax on every foot of property, which no one denies has been benefited by this feature of free concerts, it is hoped to maintain about forty musicians the year around.

WORK SOON TO START.

Contractor Calkins expects to begin work on the bulkhead and cement walk on Seaside boulevard west of Hotel Virginia the latter part of this week. The contract will require 9000 barrels of cement. The total cost of the improvements will be over $98,000.

Luther L. Mack has arrived here to assume the duties of manager of the Home Telephone Company. He was with the Bell company in the East before coming to California, and for the past three years has been with the Sunset people in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

WOMEN OFFICERS.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church has elected as officers: President, Mrs. R. W. Cleland; vice-president, Mrs. Josiah Sibley; secretary, Miss Mary Crissman; treasurer, Mrs. Drake; secretary of literature, Mrs. Lapeer.

The civic section of Ebell Club expects to call a meeting this week to consider plans for Arbor Day, the matter having been left in its hands by the City Council. Several hundred trees were planted last year, most of them still thriving, and the club expects to double the number this year. The children of the public schools will be asked to assist.

ELK EFFORTS.

The local lodge of Elks is making a special effort to get 100 new members in the next ten days. The fund of $2500 thus raised will enable it to pay off the last indebtedness on its lot at Cedar and Ocean and permit it to proceed with the erection of its own lodge and club rooms. Active rehearsals are in progress for the revival of "Pinafore," which the lodge expects to produce on an elaborate scale the latter part of this month.

Two baby jewfish, each weighing seven pounds, were caught today from the wharf, and are on exhibition at the fish market.

LORDSBURG.

LORDSBURG, March 7.—One of the best-attended concerts ever given here, was that Friday night at Bonita High School, by Miss Frances Gillette, the whistling soloist, accompanied by Miss May Orcut, a pianist formerly of Chicago, now of Los Angeles; Miss Louise Nixon Hill, Miss Edith Romig, Miss Irene Smith and Miss Jessie Ray Thompson.

STREET IMPROVEMENT.

Property Owners Along Alvarado Street, Pomona, Hope to Overcome Unwillingness of One Estate.

POMONA, March 7.—Property owners along Alvarado street, from San Antonio to North Park avenues, are working up a proposition for street improvements on each side of the thoroughfare. W. G. Halstead of San Francisco, who owns considerable frontage, will sign a petition for the improvements but the Mirande estate, whose share of the expense will be $600, it is said, does not feel like doing so. It is hoped that the improvement may yet be brought about.

The special agricultural and horticultural train bearing prominent State officials and experts will arrive here next Friday afternoon, when instructive meetings will be conducted. Among the speakers will be Prof. E. J. Wickson, Prof. R. H. Loughridge, Prof. E. W. Major, Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, J. W. Jeffrey, E. K. Carnes, J. B. Neff and Prof. E. B. Babcock.

The senior High School play, "The Toastmaster," a laughable comedy, will be given at the Fraternal Aid Theater on Tuesday evening, the 16th inst. The cast is well selected and is rehearsing diligently.

BOND ELECTION.

At the regular meeting of the Pomona Board of Trade tomorrow evening at the rooms on South Thomas street, the special order of business will be the consideration of the City Hall bond election which is called here for Wednesday. It provides for the purchase of the block bounded by Fourth, Fifth, Thomas and Main streets as a site for the proposed new $30,000 City Hall which Pomona has so long needed. The members of the board have taken a deep interest in the project which is one of great importance to the city, as the entire block can be purchased reasonably at the present time and the site of the old hall can soon be sold at a good profit, with the prospects of the incoming of the electric road. It is the plan to lay the land out around the proposed new City Hall as an attractive park.

Fred Somers of the firm of Crookshank & Somers has purchased the old L. D. Conner property on East Holt avenue, consisting of 100 feet frontage, for $7500, and plans to erect a new residence thereon.

W. Hamilton has sold his twelve-acre orange grove at the corner of Orange Grove and Vinton avenues to M. M. Morgan, lately of Everett, Wash., for $22,300. There is a good house on the property. The sale was made by Ahlebert Folsom, Mr. Morgan and family will make their home here.

Mark H. Potter has sold a twenty-acre orange grove on East Holt avenue for a reported consideration of $30,000.

DIES SUDDENLY.

The sudden death occurred at her home on South Thomas street this morning of Mrs. C. F. Weigle, who had not been in robust health for some time, but her death was unexpected. She was about 35 years old and leaves a widower and a daughter 12 years old. Mrs. Weigle was a devoted member of the local Christian Church. She was a daughter of the late D. H. Collins and a sister of Mrs. W. H. Howell of Lemon.

BULKHEAD PROTEST.

Agitation Against Its Extension Along the Ocean Park Front—Many Untagged Curs.

OCEAN PARK, March 7.—There having been a protest against the projected extension of the ocean front bulkhead south of Vista avenue, the City Trustees will tomorrow night take up the postponed hearing of this matter. One contention is that a structure of this kind interferes with the graceful lines and general contour of the beach. Another argument is that jetty construction would be of more service, would not injure the beach and would accomplish the desired object at a less cost.

The purpose of any construction at this point is to prevent the high tides sweeping inland to the detriment of ocean front property interests. It is held that the building of the breakwater is responsible for the cross currents that roll in with a swirling force that rips out the sands ashore and causes the sea and the tides to flow further and further inland.

With each added southerly section of the bulkhead the zone of endangered property approaches nearer and nearer to Playa del Rey—and property owners are wondering where the end will be.

UNTAGGED CURS.

The biting of the little son of W. T. Deane by a vicious dog has served to renew the agitation for a strict enforcement of the dog-license law. The beach is said to be overrun from end to end with worthless canines, and a person who took the trouble to count the delegates at a recent dog convention held in the public highways says that out of a total of twenty-nine present there were only two that possessed credentials entiting them to the liberty of life and the pursuit of happiness. The dog poisoner has been idle for nearly a week. In Santa Monica the Humane Society is collecting the dog licenses, but the number of unlicensed curs seems not to be decreasing.

BEER OR BIBLE?

Question as to Which Shall Hold Sway at the Venice Auditorium This Season.

VENICE, March 7.—Whether beer or Bible will hold sway at the auditorium this season is still weighing in the balance. The City Trustees may again take up the question tomorrow night, in an effort to reach a solution of the problem that has been the subject of animated debate for many days. Last week when the application of Hall & Singer for a liquor license came up for consideration a motion was made to reject the application. But there was no second to the motion, and there the matter dropped, for the time.

PLAN AMATEUR ATHLETICS.

Amateur athletics promises to play an important part in the entertainments and attractions of Venice during the summer season. It was for the purpose of creating an interest in legitimate sports and athletics and engineering field meets throughout the spring, summer and fall that the organization of a local athletic club has been perfected. One of the first events of the season will be a day devoted to field sports, to be followed in season by aquatic contests, tennis tournaments, yacht races and perhaps wrestling and boxing for points. There are also to be shoots at the athletic field. The rifle ranges are to be put in commission for the season and there will be trap and clay pigeon contests open to Southern California.

Friday evening has been decided upon as the time and the ship Cabrillo as the place for a mass meeting of citizens. The purpose is to dispose the project of establishing a polytechnic high school on the strand. The gathering is being arranged under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. The programme will be prepared by a committee consisting of Messrs. Phillips, Hanna and Stanwood.

Better Than Talcum Powder, Says Anty Drudge.

Druggist—"What can I do for you, Madam?"

Mrs. Tiredout—"Give me some violet water or any perfume that will rid me of this odor of suds. I've stood in that steaming laundry till sickened me."

Anty Drudge—"Now, after you've paid for these buy a cake of Fels-Naptha and wash with it Monday, and you won't need to boil your clothes up-to-date and try the new way of washing."

Have you ever seen a stick of dynamite? You wonder how so much explosive force can be stored in so small a space.

Not less marvelous is the great cleaning power stored in a cake of Fels-Naptha soap. An electric spark explodes the dynamite. To make Fels-Naptha do its marvelous work you need only have cold or lukewarm water and some soiled clothes.

Fels-Naptha is made to dissolve them. Fels-Naptha separates it into atoms and they are carried away in the rinsing water. And it does this in cold or lukewarm water without boiling or hard rubbing. Follow the simple directions on the red and green wrapper, and Fels-Naptha will do your washing better than it was ever done any other way.

THE SUPERVISORS OF IMPERIAL COUNTY.

The Town as Site for Court- Board Months Ago and Do- Not Know Why Nothing Has Been Done to Improve It—El Centro Activities.

EL CENTRO, March 7.—Donation of two acres to Imperial City for the permanent court building, made several months ago, has been the cause of much discussion among members of the Board of Supervisors. Nothing has been done toward putting the matter in presentable shape, and this has set forth a protest from the people to ask that the board adopt some definite plan for beautification of the grounds. At the last session of the board a motion was made that the city be reimbursed for the land now occupied, at the time they purchased it, but this failed to receive support. At a previous meeting it was moved that the gift be withdrawn, but this was lost. Now the people are waiting for a special hearing on the matter.

CREAM, GOOD PRICES.

The activities of the Imperial Dairymen's Association and those of the County Sanitary Officer, H. E. Sherman, the cream-station buyers of Imperial County, have served to convince that hereafter cream will be graded and the prices paid according to quality. The cream from cows that have been fed grass and mustard has been the cause of spoiling whole churnings of butter, and causing the cream to be sold at 12 cents per pound less than market. A general improvement of sanitary conditions at the creameries is insisted upon.

SEED BURNED.

Agricultural Commissioner Hewitt burned several bags of seed on the street in front of the County Courthouse, as they had been shipped in to indicate violation of the quarantine established by the Los Angeles firm. El Centro is a State quarantine station for the inspection of cotton seed, and every precaution is taken to prevent this pest from gaining a foothold here. All seed destroyed is by the deputy of the Agricultural Commission at El Centro and distributed to the fire.

NEW BANKS.

It is to have two new banks. The El Centro National will open for business in temporary quarters tomorrow. Later a building will be erected for this institution on the southeast corner of Main and Third streets. The First National of El Centro will occupy the building of Thomas Beach two-story brick on Fifth and Main streets, which is being remodeled, and will have all modern banking rooms in Imperial.

STREET STOPS.

The City Trustees have received permission from the Postmaster-General to establish a station in the west room of the building on the corner of Sixth and Main streets, which has been recommended by the Republican County Committee for the appointment of Mrs. Hall as a compromise between the candidates, J. J. Hall, postmaster, and W. R. Holcomb, aspirants for this position.

Athletic League.

The schools of Imperial have formed a tennis tournament, on the courts of which sets are to be played.

NEW SPORT RIALTO FAD.

Hunt Jack Rabbits by Light of a Powerful Automobile Headlight.

RIALTO, March 7.—Hunting jack rabbits by the light of a powerful automobile headlight, is the unusual sport which has been initiated at Rialto, and is becoming quite a fad. J. H. Morgan, L. E. Newcomb and Bud Wade have the honor of having inaugurated it. Recently, while automobiling through the night, they descried the antics of a big jack, evidently bewildered by the headlight of their machine. Following him they were soon compensated by running the swift creature down. The incident suggested possibilities, and they were soon scudding over the plains, dazzling bunnies and jacks, few of which escaped. On their return to Rialto they had twenty-one rabbits to their credit. Since then they and others have enjoyed the novel sport, and find it a big improvement over the old-fashioned rabbit drive.

Unless Blind God Can Melt Stony Heart, Mysterious Young Man Who Eloped With Young Los Angeles Girl Must Stand Trial at Santa Barbara Tomorrow.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The mystery surrounding the identity of Fred Anderson, who eloped from Los Angeles some weeks ago with young Elsta Backus, remains unsolved. The young man's trial will open Tuesday morning, at the Superior Court here, before Judge Crow, unless Cupid intervenes and makes a marriage out of the mystery.

Anderson has never revealed his family name, not even to his attorney. Pride and fear of scorn led him to hesitate to notify his relatives and not even then did he consult his attorney, but in some way unknown got word to some one in the East and $1500 in gold came by express for his release. Then the youth left town, went to Los Angeles and again offered marriage to the girl in a letter.

When his case came before the Police Judge, the disposition of the authorities was to advise marriage as the most satisfactory settlement of the case. The girl seemed willing and her mother, though angered at Anderson, seemed about to acquiesce, when Humane Officer Reynolds of Los Angeles forbade it, declaring that the mother should make an example of Anderson.

Anderson was galled by the girl's mother's refusal to sanction the marriage and confided to his attorney that it was "the first time he had offered marriage to any one and though the girl didn't really know who he was, she was liable to regret it when she learned the truth."

Anderson is apparently well educated and cultured, speaks four languages and seemed to have plenty of money. He is believed here to be a scion of some wealthy eastern family whose lark is likely to cost him dearly, unless Cupid outwits officialdom and joins two loving hearts.

Larkin, pastor of the local church, this afternoon baptized in the Escondido River, Syril Warren, a junior of the High School.

The church edifice has no baptistry. The fifteen and one-half inches of rain Escondido had this season resulted in a good-sized stream. The baptism, which was witnessed by a large crowd, was in the swimming hole, so-called, near the old pumping plant in the center of the town and was the first ever conducted in the river.

Gasoline Tank Blows Up and Two Men Are Seriously Burned—Oldest Civil War Veteran on Pacific Coast Celebrates Ninety-ninth Birthday. Seek Taber Again.

SAN DIEGO, March 7.—By the explosion of gasoline in a cleaning establishment late last night, Charles Lampa and Ralph Pope were seriously burned about the head, face and arms, while one end of the building on Sixth street was blown out.

The force of the explosion was heard for several blocks and the blaze from the burning fluid shot high into the air.

A new distilling plant had been put in the establishment and it is thought there was some defect in the machinery. The tank which blew up held thirty gallons of gasoline. The two men were at work in the room where the explosion occurred and how they escaped with as light injuries as they did is a mystery. Both were taken out of the wreck by employés from other parts of the building and were hurried to a hospital, where physicians dressed the burns and soon pronounced both out of danger.

As the gasoline was kept in a room surrounded by brick walls the explosion caused little loss by fire. The department was promptly on the scene and prevented the burning oil from communicating with adjacent wooden buildings.

Plate glass windows in almost every building in the block were broken by the force of the explosion.

OLDEST LIVING VETERAN.

Capt. Edwin Bailey, believed to be the oldest war veteran on the Pacific Coast, came down from the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle to celebrate his ninety-ninth birthday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Emma Haven, No. 1250 Ninth street. Capt. Bailey served on the flagship with Admiral Farragut during the Civil War. His birthday was celebrated today and was attended by many of the Grand Army men of this city and surrounding towns.

The Nevada Sheriff is expected tomorrow.

REGISTRATION HEAVY.

Registration for the nominating primary on March 23, is 9242. It is expected that the total registration for the general election on April 6 will be in the neighborhood of 8500, with the probability of it exceeding that number. It may run as high as 9600.

When the registration books for the fall election closed on September 23, 1908, the registration was 7668. From that date to February 23, when the registration closed for the nominating primary the latter part of this month, it was increased 1574, making a total of 9242.

ANTI-SPLITTERS TO THE FRONT.

WILL FIGHT AGAINST DIVISION OF FRESNO COUNTY.

Are Preparing for Active Campaign Against Passage of Bill by Senate Providing for One of the Parts Being Taken Away to Become Portion of Kings County.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

FRESNO, March 6.—At a mass meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce, it was decided to begin an active campaign looking to the defeat of the Webber bill now before the Legislature, providing for a division of Fresno county and placing part of it in Kings county. The territory provided for in the bill includes about 70,000 acres in the southwestern part of this county. The Webber bill has already passed the Assembly and now all efforts will be concentrated on the Senate. If the bill passes this body, a general protest from Fresno county will be made to Gov. Gillett.

A committee of sixteen, with W. O. Miles as chairman, was appointed yesterday afternoon to superintend the fight which promises to be equally as bitter as that of two years ago when Kings county sought even a larger territory. This committee will arrange for mass meetings to be held throughout the county on a date early next week at which time resolutions protesting against this division will be passed.

As a substitute for the Webber bill, which takes a large slice out of Fresno county, it has been proposed that an amendment be introduced in the Senate making the Kings River the boundary line. Fresnoans do not object to this inasmuch as people living south of the river are desirous of going into Kings county while people north of the river want to remain in Fresno county.

Senator George W. Cartwright returned last night from Sacramento for an over-Sunday stay and stated that an agreement was reached between Senator Miller and himself yesterday whereby neither will do any lobbying in the Senate from now on, but will make their whole fight on the floor of the Senate, Senator Miller is from Tulare county, but he has been making a strenuous fight in the Senate for the Webber bill.

A number of lobbyists have been in Sacramento from Kings county, but these men have all gone. The matter will come up in the Senate at some date to be named later by Senators Miller and Cartwright.

One of the first arguments which Cartwright will make against the bill will be the fact that the people north of the river are almost three to one opposed to going into Kings county. His first move will be to introduce an amendment to the Webber bill, making the river the boundary line, and if this is carried, it is believed that the Assembly will take an altogether different view of the question.

"The fight in the Senate will be a close one," said Senator Cartwright last night, "but it ought not and would not be, if the Senate were apprised of the real facts in the case."

When the bill was before the Assembly, Assemblyman Webber of Kings and Odom of Fresno entered into an agreement similar to the one made by Cartwright and Miller yesterday. Both kept the agreement as far as they were personally concerned, but Webber sent Irvine, also of Kings, around among the legislators, and lined up all the Democrats, while Odom's hands were tied. Irvine also worked the Republicans, with the result that when the bill came to a vote, it won by an overwhelming majority.

Although Fresno county is late in starting the fight it will be strenuously made from now on in the hope of winning against county division.

Coronā Man Uses Both Weapons in Attacks on Man With Whom He Drank.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CORONA, March 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While drinking at W. J. Strange's tailor shop at 2 o'clock this morning a dispute arose between Len Dixon, a laborer, aged 22, and a barber named Myers. Dixon and a companion, Louis Davis, left the place. As they did so Myers, it is alleged, hit Dixon on the forehead with a broken bottle. Bleeding from his wound, Dixon went with Davis to their rig. As they drove on to Seventh street, near Main, Myers stepped from behind a barn and fired at them, they assert. They went several blocks and inquired for a doctor. Dixon has a two-inch gash in his forehead that penetrates to the bone. He was shot in his arm. Davis was shot in the leg. Both men are able to be around, and have been taken to Riverside to be held as witnesses. Myers was arrested, charged with assault with a deadly weapon. The preliminary trial will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

ANAHEIM REALTY SALES.

ANAHEIM, March 7.—George Potts and Mr. Waters have sold their ten-acre walnut grove south of town to Mrs. Lewis for $8500.

The Albert Bruske twenty-acre improved place, two miles southwest of town, has been sold to J. E. Ruffin of Flagstaff, Ariz., for $8500.

The fifteen-acre walnut grove of Mrs. Stone on Orangethorpe avenue, has been sold to A. F. Holve of Chicago for $11,500. Resh & Co. made the three sales.

For the week ending last night six cars of oranges were shipped East over the Santa Fé from this city.

The ladies of the W.C.T.U. gave a miscellaneous shower the past week at the home of Mrs. A. A. Mills for Miss Lillie Kruger, who is to be married soon. A large number of useful gifts were presented to the bride-elect.

A contract has been let for improvements at the operahouse to cost $1500, after which Manager Schumacher will arrange to have road shows play here regularly.

COMMUNICATION OPEN.

BALTIMORE, March 7.—The isolation of this city, which has continued since early Thursday, was ended today. The Associated Press managed to secure direct wire communication with the New York headquarters by the cooperation of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, at this end, and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company at the other. From these a direct long-distance telephone wire was leased, and connected with the Morse telegraph instruments in Baltimore and New York.

VINOL CURES CHRONIC COUGHS, COLDS AND BRONCHITIS

After Other Remedies Fail

"I have been troubled with a chronic cold and bronchitis for a long time and have tried many remedies without finding relief. Through the kind suggestion of a friend I tried Vinol, and after taking four bottles, am entirely cured." A. H. Wilde, 733-8th Avenue, Minneapolis, Minn.

S. McDonald, 147 W. Congress St. Paul, Minn., writes: "I contracted a severe cold last winter and thought I would never get rid of it. I tried Vinol as a last resort, and it has completely cured me."

Vinol combines two world-famed tonics, the healing, medicinal properties of cod liver oil and tonic iron, deliciously palatable and agreeable to the weakest stomach. For this reason, Vinol is unexcelled as a strength-builder for old people, delicate children, weak and run-down persons, after sickness and for Chronic Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis.

OPERATION HER ONLY CHANCE

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Adrian, Ga.—"I suffered untold misery from a female weakness and disease, and I could not stand more than a minute at a time. My doctor said an operation was the only chance I had, and I dreaded it almost as much as death. One day I was reading how other women had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it. Before I had taken one bottle I was better, and now I am completely cured."—LENA V. HENRY, Route No. 3, Adrian, Ga.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

H. B. Crouch, Jr., Manufacturing Jeweler

As a rule, most art requires long study and close application, but the usual exception occasionally happens, and we are forced to concede that good designers, like poets, are born, not made. H. B. Crouch, Jr., the London Jeweler, with salesrooms at 555 S. Broadway, is a living demonstration of the fact. Coming from a long line of eminent jewelers in England, who have followed the profession for centuries, the artistic talents of his forbears are being manifested here in Los Angeles. Mr. Crouch's father has received many valued testimonials of his work; and when the Borough of Cardiff, England, after designs submitted in open competition with the cleverest jewelers of the United Kingdom, ordered a magnificent jewel box for presentation to the Prince of Wales, they apparently made no mistake, as the Prince personally complimented Mr. Crouch and assured him of his high appreciation of the work. H. B. Crouch, Jr., has been a diamond expert and manufacturing jeweler all his life, and in the old country made special jewelry designs for several members of the royal family. He has been in this city six years and already has a large and increasing patronage for his original and exclusive jewelry, most of it so beautiful and artistically finished that it is almost impossible to describe it, hence catalogs are useless. It must be seento be appreciated. The Crouch jewelry is so exclusive that many residents are beginning to recognize it. In fact, there is a demand from many people to remodel their jewelry at this store. A glance at Mr. Crouch's unique window display at once stamps him as a genius in his profession, and it is said traveling jewelers in the States are becoming acquainted with this style of jewelry, some of it having been sent for sale in New York City.

20 years of study and work in the National Irrigation and Homecroft movements enable me to demonstrate this, and show any thrifty, industrious, teachable man how to transform a capital of $2000 into the equivalent of $20,000. The secret lies in Scientific Co-operative Colonization on irrigated lands. I am now organizing the first such colony of Five Acre Garden Farms under the great National Irrigation Reservoir and Canal system in the Salt River Valley, Arizona. For full information and particulars call personally between 5 and 6 p.m., or address George H. Maxwell, 632 Pacific Electric Building, Los Angeles. NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Speaking of Milton.

John Milton, as the greatest literary champion of liberty, will be the subject of a lecture by Dr. H. B. Sprague at the Young Women's Christian Association this evening.

Live Forever?

Prof. M. F. Knox of Seattle will deliver three free lectures on mental science in the old Masonic Hall, No. 421 South Hill street, beginning tomorrow. The lectures will treat of mental healing and wealth. Friday evening he will lecture about how to overcome death and live forever in endless youth and happiness.

Who's Lost Boy?

Mrs. W. H. Thompson, who resides about a mile east of Burbank, reported to the Central Station police last night, that a boy, giving the name of H. Wolf, came to her place in the evening and asked for a night's lodging, which she gave him. The lad claimed he had become separated from his parents at Long Beach, and being without money, was walking from Los Angeles to his home near Ventura.

Rides an Ostrich.

Mrs. Hattie Ruskirk, wife of the property man at the Belasco Theater, rode a large ostrich at the Cawston Ostrich Farm yesterday for the benefit of the Los Angeles Camera Club. An array of double-action long-prong kodaks were riveted upon the ostrich and its fair rider, and it is probable that theatrical publications will contain in the near future pictures of this California woman riding a California ostrich. One of the gentlemen members of the club also took a ride.

BLADE-PIERCED, LIKELY TO DIE.

VICTIM OF STABBING LOSES MUCH BLOOD.

Knife Penetrates Diaphragm and Enters Intestinal Vault—Element of Mystery in Man Found on San Fernando Street Severely Wounded. Fight Takes Place on Sidewalk.

With a knife wound in his side that will probably cause his death, Jacinto Gazal was found yesterday afternoon in front of No. 610 San Fernando street. He was slowly bleeding to death. The injured man was hurried to the Receiving Hospital, where it was discovered that the knife blade had pierced the spleen and penetrated the diaphragm into the intestinal vault.

An element of mystery is connected with the stabbing of Gazal. Not more than twenty minutes after he was wounded Jacinto Rodriguez was found near the scene of the stabbing suffering from a severe wound on his forehead. His face was covered with blood. He said he was struck by a rock.

Rodriguez was arrested and when taken to the Receiving Hospital protested his innocence. He acknowledged he was in a free fight, but said he had had nothing to do with the stabbing of Gazal. When taken before the dying man Gazal roused himself for a second and with a brief glance at Rodriguez shook his head when asked if it was Rodriguez who had stabbed him.

The police admit that it will be practically impossible to secure the assailant of Gazal. They are of the opinion that Rodrigues was the man, but the inability or unwillingness of Gazal to recognise in Rodriguez the man who attacked him only complicates matters.

Detective Rico was detailed to investigate the case, but when he arrived at the little café, where the stabbing occurred he found the men there so belligerent that he telephoned to Central Station for assistance. Detectives Hosick and Ziegler were immediately detailed, and went to the café in the police patrol. On their arrival they placed eleven men in the café under arrest, and took them to Central Station, where they are held under suspicion. They will be detained as witnesses.

The fight in which Gazal was perhaps fatally cut took place yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock on the sidewalk in San Fernando street. There are always a number of people, mostly Mexicans, on the street, at this time of day, yet there is no one in the vicinity of where the man was found who will admit having witnessed a fight.

Working in the dark, the officers are without a clew. The wounded man will not help them. It is probable that if the would-be murderer was brought into the hospital that Gazal would deny that the man attacked him.

Jo-Jo and Ju-Ju,
the Norris and Rowe boxing bears.

SIBERIAN CHAMPIONS.

Boxing Bears Will Perform at the Greater Norris and Rowe Circus This Week.

The Greater Norris & Rowe Circus will begin a four-day engagement at Praeger Park next Wednesday under the auspices of the National Guard, and Jo-Jo and Ju-Ju, the two big Siberian bears, will don gloves and fight a one-round boxing match.

Once in a while when Jo-Jo, who is built on the Jeffries plan, is feeling particularly spry, he has been known to give Ju-Ju an extra stiff cuff, and then what is plainly programmed as a boxing bout assumes the proportions of a slugging contest, with frequent clinches. Nor do either of the shaggy pugilists pretend to observe the regulation length of a round on such occasions. When the fight becomes serious, Frank Williams, the trainer, throws a bucket of ice water on the contestants, which never fails to bring about a "draw."

"Nug" Pooten, one of the clowns of the show, was watching the bears spar one day when Jo-Jo handed Ju-Ju a knock-out. The smaller bear sank to the ground, and when Jo-Jo leaned over his victim "Nug" declares that Ju-Ju uttered a growl which was plainly audible as "Nuff, nuff."

Both bears will be here next week and will be lead in the street parade by two well-known members of Troop D.

LIFE GOES OUT AT THEATER.

DEATH STRIKES SUDDENLY BY TICKET WINDOW.

Representative of San Francisco Benevolent Body Falls Before Box Office Just as He Lays Down Money for the Purchase of a Seat—Trying to Find Relatives.

While standing at the box office of the Los Angeles Theater yesterday afternoon waiting for his ticket, Charles Vohrmann, representing the General Benevolent Society of San Francisco, dropped dead. His death was due to heart failure.

Vohrmann was at the head of the line and had waited several minutes for a chance to purchase a ticket. He had presented his money, asking for an orchestra seat, when the man in the box office saw the applicant turn pale. Then Vohrmann fell forward on his face.

Those in the car could not account for the delay and there was commotion caused by the incident when the news spread through the crowd. Several rushed to the assistance of the prostrate man and a physician was summoned. When the doctor arrived the stricken man was dead.

Vohrmann had been in Los Angeles only a short time. He roomed at No. 671 Ceres avenue and, as far as is known, was single. From letters on his person it appeared that he had transmitted from time to time several small sums of money to the benevolent society he represented. He was not well known in this city. At his lodgings those of his acquaintances who have associated with him speak highly of him. He was quiet and industrious, and made many calls on those who were sick and in difficulty. His special mission seemed to be to the German people here. He had a small account in one of the local banks, and always paid his bills promptly. He was born in Germany fifty-five years ago.

All efforts to get into communication with relatives of the dead man failed yesterday. The Coroner and the funeral directors will try to reach some of the relatives of Vohrmann today.

Apostle a Failure.

Samuel Gompers has given Eugene Debs a new designation. He terms him "the apostle of failure," and says he "has joined the mob of howling dervishes who are kicking up a great dust and trying to discourage the men in the labor movement from using their political power in conjunction with their industrial forces in order to protect the masses who toil."—[Washington Star.

Of all the modern devices for the housewife's convenience and comfort the electric iron is one of the most important. It makes drudgery of ironing day a thing of the past. It saves half the labor and permits one to remain at the ironing board and easily do the day's work at an earlier hour with no running about and less energy. No hot stove to keep the room overheated.
We have taken control of the best electric iron made. It is known as the "Guaranty Electric Iron." A signed guarantee goes with every one. The Guaranty Iron is cast in one piece—no joints to allow waste heat or catch in the fabric.
These irons contain no asbestos or wire, therefore with no asbestos (which absorbs moisture) there is nothing that can rust the iron. With reasonable care the Guaranty Electric Iron will last a lifetime and wear out. The Guaranty Electric Flat Iron is most economical to operate. The cost is low and only a little current is needed at the start when full heat is desired. Price $5. Absolutely guaranteed for one year.
